

REDS BATTLE DESPERATELY OIL COMPANIES TO ANNOUNCE GAS RATION PLAN

Card Rationing Appears Likely In Short Time

Only Ten Day Supply Of Gasoline On Eastern Coast —Attempt To Re-
plenish

COMPANIES' PLAN READY BY TOMORROW

No Gasless Sundays Probable But Consumers Must Cut Down Use Of Gas

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—
Two different plans to enforce rationing of gasoline on the eastern seaboard are being clamped today to be clamped down if the present 10 per cent cut in deliveries to filling stations fails to avert the threatened fuel shortage.

Wide confusion as to how the 100,000 filling stations in the east will pass on the 10 per cent cut to motorists is expected to be cleared up in the next 24 hours when major oil companies will announce their programs for limiting gas purchases to customers.

Ten-Day Supply
Meanwhile, the office of Federal Petroleum Administrator Harold L.
Ickes explained that its announcement that there is only a 10-day reserve of gasoline on the eastern coast does not mean that gasoline supplies would completely dry up. The supplies are being replenished as quickly as possible, it is said.

However, it is admitted in many official quarters that the necessity to store up fuel-heating oil for winter may force a further rationing of gasoline.

Ickes' office tentatively planned to extend the 10 per cent cut to 20 or 30 per cent if necessary, leaving it up to the oil companies to work out the system of parceling it out to motorists.

A second plan is being readied by the office of Federal Price and Supply Administrator Leon Henderson.
It is a hard rationing system. If the present curtailment doesn't work it is predicted that motorists will see card rationing in 30 days or six weeks.

No Gasless Sundays
Both Ickes' and Henderson's offices report that there is no consideration being given to the World War plan of "gasless Sundays".
It was pointed out that the Ickes'

PA NEW OBSERVES

It was reported to Pa New today that John Peluso, a ten-year-old boy who resides at 210 Montgomery avenue, caught a carp, weighing 3½ pounds,
in Bessemer quarry recently.

While no new detours are shown for the local district on the Detroit Bulletin of the Pennsylvania highway department, there is a great amount of road construction work being done at the present time thruout the state, particularly on roads where traffic is being maintained while the work is being done. The Bulletin for the week ending August 22 is on display in the lobby of The News.

Shenango river was navigable this morning. Three boys, in a boat of their own building, were having a nice time "rowing" in the vicinity of West Side bridge. One boy, in the stern of the boat, almost went fort into his "stroke."

Gasoline For One Day's War Maneuvers

Civilian motorists in the East are threatened with a gasoline shortage, and here is a demonstration of the reason why. This is the Lake Charles, La., gasoline depot of the Third Army, now preparing for maneuvers, and being unloaded from tank cars is just a portion of the 45,000 gallons of gasoline and oil used in a single day by the Third's 3,000 motor units. Similar depots are scattered over Texas and Louisiana.

Government Action Felt

To Bring Accord

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Government action in the strike at the Federal Shipbuilding and Drydock company's Kearney, N. J., plant appeared near today after the company and the CIO Shipbuilders Union failed to reach an agreement at a lengthy conference.

At the suggestion of President Roosevelt, company and union officials met for the second time in 48 hours but the conference broke up early this morning without any success.

No plans for the two factions to get together again were made.
Union leaders attending the meeting indicated that they will return to Kearney.

No Agreement
John Green, president of the CIO union said that no agreement could be reached at the meeting on a maintenance of membership clause and asked that the government take

Save-Gas Stickers Appearing On Cars

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 22.—Thousands of gas-thrift pledges appeared on Pennsylvania motor cars today as the state council of defense launched mass distribution of "not over 40 m. p. h." windshield stickers.
Shipments of the new stickers to county councils of defense was started as the drive was accelerated to conserve gasoline by driving at slower speeds.

Three thousand stickers were given to Walter G. Scott, acting secretary of property and supplies, for use on commonwealth-owned cars, the council said.

Maid Confesses To Burning Paintings

Housemaid Steals Three Valuable Paintings And Puts Them In Fireplace

WAS JUST MAD
AT HER EMPLOYER

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—After failing in a suicide attempt, a remorse-ful housemaid today confessed she had burned three paintings valued at more than $44,000 which were reported stolen recently from the hotel suite of Capt. Daniel S. Sickles, art expert and connoisseur.

"I wanted to hurt him," said the housemaid, Marie Hauser, from her cell in the prison ward of Bellevue hospital. She was taken to the hospital from her home where she had attempted to kill herself by an overdose of sleeping tablets.

The paintings, two of them the works of Thomas Gainsborough, were destroyed for a trifling sum by the maid's resentment over being told by Captain Sickles to prepare his summer cottage on Long Island for occupancy.

The works of Gainsborough have sold for close to $1,000,000. Those destroyed were insured for $44,000, but their value was believed to be much higher.

DAY'S WAR DEVELOPMENTS

(International News Service)
Today's crisis was Iran, as the now-familiar pattern of words and warnings which throughout this war have preceded action, centered around the Near Eastern state which the world knew for centuries as Persia, land of legend and mystery.

Britain and Russia both cast their eyes toward Iran, her 10,000 citizens —and, most important, the 3,000 Germans there, allegedly fifth columnists. The London press today emphasized the growing need for aid to Russia via Iran. This was coupled with the disclosure that both Britain and Russia have concentrated strong forces along the Iranian border.

Brewing For Month
The Iranian affair has been brewing for a month. It started when Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Britain told the House of Commons that he had warned Telleran to stop an alleged influx of Germans. The German radio responded with some heated discussions of the situation, claiming the Nazis in Iran were few compared to the British there.

And so today, the news of Iran

Fewer Voters Are Eligible For Primaries

Board Of Election Figures Show Almost 2,000 Fewer Voters Eligible This Year

DEMOCRATS LOSE LARGEST NUMBER

Registration figures, which have just been completed by the Lawrence county board of elections, revealed that 1,968 fewer voters are eligible to cast their ballot at the primary election September 9, than were registered for the general election last November.

Some of these losses are principally due to a large number of the men being in the military service, and failed to qualify, while others moved from the city, or were stricken from the list through failure to maintain their registration by voting within a period of two years.

The figures show that only 44,170
voters were registered as of August 14, 1941, against 46,138 as of October 17, 1940.

The greatest shrinkage was shown by the Democratic party, which lost 1,892, the Republicans losing only 56, while all other parties lost 20.
The totals reveal 15,799 male and 13,527 female Republicans registered this year, 8,553 male Democrats, and 5,976 female Democrats;
33 male Prohibitionists, 56 female Prohibitionists; 3 male Royal Oak party; 85 females, no party; 21 males and 26 females, independent; and six males, Socialist.

Compared with the 1940 registration, there were 35 less Republican males, one less Republican female;
1,286 less Democratic males, and 506 less Democratic females.

Finnish Freighter Aurora
On Fire Near Washington Bridge—Mate Dies

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Fire of unknown origin swept the 4956-ton Finnish freighter Aurora today as it lay at anchor in the Hudson river just north of the George Washington bridge.

One member of the crew, identified as First Mate Conrad Freese, perished as a result of the fire but 17 other members of the crew were rescued.

The ship, was towed to the Jersey shore and beached as thousands of spectators gathered along both banks to stare at the vessel.

Police, the FBI and naval intelligence were to make a thorough inquiry to determine the cause of the blaze, to determine if sabotage was responsible.

Four policemen who set out for the burning vessel in a commandeered boat were treated for smoke inhalation but remained on duty.
Captain Albert Bjorklund, of the vessel, was treated for burns on the hands.

The blaze was discovered aboard
the Aurora by Seaman Nana Andersen. It flared with the speed similar to the fire which swept a Brooklyn pier and destroyed the Cuba mail liner freighter Panuco only last Monday. At least 25 persons lost their lives in that fire and six are still listed as missing.

Rapid action by three men living in the Unity Boat Club nearby averted a repetition of the Panuco tragedy and enabled aid to arrive in time to remove the crew.

still burning fiercely aboard the

MOSCOW, Aug. 22.—
Without a moment's respite even at night, great battles which have been raging on the Leningrad and Gornel fronts roared into their fourth day today.

During the night, the Soviet noon communiqué said, "Our troops waged battles along the entire front, and fought especially fiercely in the di-gorod, and Gornel."

Loss of Gornel, key posiearlier Russian bulletin.

Meanwhile a huge civilian army of men and women prepared for the siege of Lening-

Kuzbass sector on the southwest and Novgorod on the southeast.

Last Many Years

Russian government forecast a war that may last for "many years" before the Allies eventually triumph.
S. A. Lozovsky, vice commissar

British Forces Ready To Seize Iran

Germans Must Go Or Troops Move In

No Confirmation Of News Commentator's Charge That British Are In

FORCES CONCENTRATE ON IRANIAN BORDER

By MERRILL MUELLER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Aug. 22.—Both Russia and Britain have concentrated strong forces on the borders of Iran for a quick strike against the Shah's kingdom if 3,000 Germans, allegedly potential fifth columnists, are not ejected speedily, the British press reported today.

But government informants said no move into Iran has been made yet.

No Confirmation

Officials said they had no confirmation of a story circulated by John W. Vandercook, NBC commentator in the United States, citing "reliable information" to the effect that General Sir Archibald Wavell, "heading a considerable British armed force" has crossed the frontier of the Indian province of Baluchistan into Iran.

There was no attempt, however, to conceal the Allies' readiness to march into Iran from three sides if, as expected, the Shah's government in Tehran rejects renewed Anglo-Soviet demands for expulsion of the German infiltrators.

A negative reply to the Allied representations was looked for today.

And the expectation was that Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden's rejoinder to Tehran would be, in essence, "Get those Germans out—or else!"

Ready For Action

The situation was summed up in headlines in the London Daily Express, organ of Lord Beaverbrook, British cabinet minister of supply, proclaiming: "We are ready for action!"

American travelers from the Middle East were quoted in the Express and other newspapers as saying that Russia and Britain have concentrated large armed forces on the Caucasian, Iraq and Indian frontiers of Iran.

Yet it was stressed by British government officials that Foreign Secretary Eden wants Iran to take the initiative and eject the Germans—for Britain still is eager to avoid any breach between the Persian Shah's government and England.

British papers quoted American travelers as saying that Russia has transferred nearly 30 divisions (450,000 men) from the Turkish frontier to the nearby Iranian frontier.

British mechanized forces were said to be taking up border positions above the Persian gulf and Arabian sea.

STRIKE NEGOTIATIONS FRUITLESS IN DETROIT

there was some talk of various "peace plans." Frank X. Martel, an A. F. of L. leader, told reporters, however, that:

"I say at this time that no one is in possession of such a proposal."

The mayor said he was still hopeful of a "peaceful settlement but I have little in the way of evidence of success. The system is not running."

In Lansing, Governor Murray D. Van Wagener sharply rapped the strike, its cause and its effect.

Van Wagener conferred with his adjutant general who commands as well 2,500 "home guard troops."

"Do you think troops are going to be needed," the governor was asked.

"No," he replied, "but my practice is to make plans for the worst and then hope it doesn't change the picture. This picture would change pretty fast if one of these groups tried to run the street cars and buses."

C. I. O. Offer Rejected

In connection with the governor's statement it was recalled that the C. I. O. union had offered to operate the street cars and buses. This proposal, however, was rejected by Jeffries on the theory violence might ensue.

Meanwhile, R. J. Thomas, president of the powerful and vast U. A. W-C. I. O. Automobile Worker's Union, rallied to the support of the C. I. O. union involved in the dispute. He urged the U. A. W-C. I. O. to give all possible support to the state, county and municipal workers (C. I. O.)—the union battling with the A. F. of L. car workers who have held a dominating position in the D. S. R. for 40 years.

As a city, Detroit rapidly was adjusting itself to the inconvenient situation. But business downtown was affected noticeably as prospective shoppers stayed at home rather than arrange complicated methods of transportation. Defense workers and office workers had the transportation problem solved in one way or another at the end of the first day.

If the Japanese job proves difficult, blame the appeasers in the state department who gave Japan 18 months to lay in supplies.

NAZIS TAKE GOMEL REDS ATTEMPTING TO SAVE LENINGRAD

of Gomel. The agency predicted that the Germans would double back along the railroad line for an attack on Kiev from the northeast.

The London Daily Express heard in Stockholm that a powerful German naval force led by the battleship Tirpitz, operating from a Finnish base, attacked Tallinn in Estonia, where several Russian divisions, although isolated, are still holding out. The Express said heavy fire from the Russian land batteries drove off the German fleet.

Russian's early communique announced the fall of Gomel on Thursday, saying:

"Soviet forces evacuated Gomel after heavy fighting."

Fight Stubbornly

"Our troops waged stubborn battles along the whole front, with fighting especially fierce in the directions of Kinepsko, Novgorod (respectively 75 miles southwest and 10 miles southeast of Leningrad), and Gomel."

"Twenty-one German planes were shot down in combats Wednesday. We lost 12."

Fall of Gomel was regarded as a severe blow to the Russians, since the city is an important railway junction and its position on the Sozh river gives it an excellent steamer route to Kiev. Gomel is about midway between Kiev and Smolensk.

According to Vice Commissar Lozovsky, German casualties since the war began number nearly 2,000,000 about half of whom were killed. (Berlin places Russian losses at 5,000,000, killed, wounded, or captured, and says the dead outnumber the prisoners 3 to 1.)

No Pessimism

Lozovsky told a press conference: "We know the enemy's strength and capabilities, but there is no alarm or pessimism in our ranks."

On the contrary, Germany's latest successes in the south and north call us to a still more powerful closing of our ranks, and summon us to the struggle with all the more firmness.

"We know that Hitlerian Germany cannot win. The enemy will be destroyed. However, we may have to fight for many months or even years."

Lozovsky confirmed German reports that a battleship and cruiser were under construction at the Black sea base of Nikolayev, but said the craft were destroyed along with port facilities before the Reds evacuated the city.

Wheat Curb Hits Tobacco Farmers

DANVILLE, Va.—Southern tobacco growers are grumbling over the wheat restriction program which is being carried out as a result of the recent national referendum.

Southern tobacco growers either voted directly against a further crop reduction or else ignored it altogether. Many complain that they were not properly enlightened on the meaning of the referendum.

Now they find they are restricted to 10 acres per farm and many are having to send the Government a check on a basis of 49 cents per bushel in excess of their 10 acres.

The wheat situation hits the tobacco farmer particularly because with much arable land taken out of tobacco production through the operation of the tobacco reduction program he is restricted in its production and also must pay penalty for over-producing.

State agronomists also take a serious view of the reaction to wheat control, fearing that it will tend to stiffen farmer resistance to all forms of Federal crop control.

NO AGREEMENT YET IN KEARNEY STRIKE

to work at Kearney as was used at the North American Aviation plant," he said.

L. H. Korndorff, president of the company, who has refused to accept a recommendation by the Defense Mediation Board for a settlement because of the union maintenance clause, had no statement to make.

"We do not think it will help the situation any to speak at this time," he added.

The conference was called after the company and union officials conferred with Mr. Roosevelt, Secretary of the Navy Knox, and high defense and labor chiefs.

Results of the meeting were undoubtedly communicated to President Roosevelt who left Washington last night for his Hyde Park, N. Y., home.

Before the conference a union official said that "the plant will be in operation Monday," which indicated that either an agreement would be reached or that the government would seize the shipyard.

Continue Talks

The president told Korndorff and Green yesterday that he did not want to seize the yard unless it was necessary and suggested that negotiations be resumed in an effort to end the dispute which has tied up construction work on $450,000,000 worth of battleships and cargo vessels for more than two weeks.

The Navy Department, Mediation Board and the OPM, whose efforts to reach a settlement of the dispute, involving 16,000 workers, have urged the president to seize the shipyard.

A seizure order is reported to have been laying on the president's desk since a week ago. Mr. Roosevelt has refrained from signing the order until all other methods to end the dispute have failed.

SCHOOL REUNION PLEASANT AFFAIR

tions. Hugh Hannon kept the crowd guessing with his quiz of Mullen-town events, and the program came to a close with singing America.

Meet in Grove

The Mullen-towners then assembled in the grove of the park where a business meeting was conducted, with Mrs. Suber in charge. Officers were elected, and Mrs. Ida Reynolds Suber was re-elected as president, as was Clara Baker, vice-president, C. Ed Brown, secretary, Clair Glass, treasurer. Mrs. Suber appointed the same committee to serve for next year. A sad announcement was made that Ollie Graffius, a former member of Mullen-town, died during the past year.

At 6 o'clock promptly the delicious dinner was served on nicely appointed tables, arranged for the reunion. Bart Evans was in charge of the sports, assisted by Clay Aibel and H. M. Reynolds. Prizes were awarded to William Bryan, R. P. Evans, Louise Lemley, Betty Wiegner, Ruby Role and Virginia Wynter.

It was decided to hold several events during the coming winter, and these affairs will be announced later.

Judge Charles Matthews, Jr., was a special guest at the reunion. Out-of-town guests included: T. J. Tyler of Warren, O.; Jennie Meredith Biggs, Akron, O.; Clara Baker of Dravosburg, Pa.; Eleanor Tyler West of Warren, O.; Patrick Fitzgerald of Coraopolis, Pa.; Ollie Brown of Coraopolis, Pa. and Mrs. John Elder of Coraopolis, Mrs. May Hanna King of Pittsburgh, Betty Wiegner of Harrisburg, Mrs. Gilbert Wiegner of Harrisburg, William Hecker of Cleveland, O.; Mabel Cramer Lockley of New Wilmington, Charles Smith of Sharon, Howard Sutton of Aliquippa, Mrs. G. W. Wolf of Pittsburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woods, Youngstown; Dr. B. F. Glass of Youngstown; Theodore Tyler of Youngstown and Mr. and Mrs. William Hammond of Hammond, Ind.

DAY'S WAR DEVELOPMENT

followed the pattern that preceded action in neighboring Iraq and in Syria. It was the same kind of talk, ended, that preceded German action in the Balkans.

Today's news from Berlin was such that it might have come from Moscow, and the words of the Kremlin might have emanated from the Wilhelmstrasse.

For the Nazis admitted that things weren't going so well on the Soviet front.

And the Reds announced the loss of strategic Gomel and conceded German gains on the northern and southern fronts.

Germany's confession that millions of fresh Russian troops are being thrown into the battle was mixed with confident predictions of further victories on the Leningrad, central and Ukrainian fronts. Russia looked towards a war that may last for "many years" before the Allies finally triumph.

Lull In Activity

A lull set in once more in air activity. German blows against Britain were negligible, according to London, and the British announced no major assaults against Nazi-occupied territory since yesterday.

Japan continued to voice general alarm. Chief subject of Nipponese anxiety today, according to Koh Ishii, spokesman for the Tokyo government, is the possibility that Vladivostok might become a Soviet arsenal for possible action in the Pacific. Ishii said Japan was worried lest American bombers, sent to Russia to aid the fight against Germany, might be retained in Vladivostok.

Moscow announced at noon, Russian time: "During the night, our troops waged battles along the entire front, and fought especially fiercely in the directions of Kingisepp, Novgorod and Gomel."

line stations had failed to work and it was believed that motorists would stock up gasoline supplies on week days if a Sunday closing edict is promulgated.

Drastic measures for reducing consumption were forecast by members of the federal petroleum marketing committee concluding a two-day meeting in New York. Ickes' office said it will release a report on the committee's plan as soon as it is received and studied.

To Make Probe

Meanwhile, Sen. Bailey (D-N.C.) chairman of the senate commerce committee, said he will call a meeting of the body next week to consider a resolution by Sen. Maloney (D-Conn.) proposing a congressional investigation of the fuel shortage.

Minority Leader McNary predicted almost solid Republican support in the committee for the resolution.

Maloney declared that a probe is necessary to determine whether a shortage actually exists and said the probe will deal with transfer of American tankers to Britain which has caused the gas situation.

Acting Oil Coordinator Ralph K.

Davis denied reports that Britain has "ample oil tankers" and said the transfers were fully warranted.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

"BABY TALK" HANDICAPS NEW PUPIL

Some children, however bright may, on entering school, speak very indistinctly. Indeed, they may employ what the neighbors call "baby talk." This talk the parents and playmates may have understood and considered cute.

Yet this infantile speech handicaps the child and causes other school children to laugh at him or treat him as younger than he is. Being a great deal to a child will help him. Needless to say, the reader should take special pains to enunciate each word distinctly. Adults or older children can help this youngsters improve his speech by prevailing on him to sound words after them. They must be skillful at this lest he refuse to practice when they wish him to. One can easily observe the sounds he gets wrong and then induce him to say words which include these difficult sounds.

A mother writes that her child nearly five has particular trouble with l and r. She was advised to repeat words, phrases and rhymes which contain these words beginning with l, as lamb, or end in l, as ball.

Avoid Self-Consciousness
It is a good plan to show him pictures of things involving these letters, and talk with him about them; or to draw such pictures in rough outline and have him draw them. When one engages the child in using such words in connection with an alluring activity he is far less likely to grow self-conscious.

It is very important that he does not grow self-conscious over his trouble with such sounds, that no one laughs at him, or refers to the matter in his presence.

The child may like to watch you tongue and lips as you make the hard-for-him sound, then to see your tongue and lip in the mirror and, finally, his own as he tries to imitate you. Encourage this child to play freely with other children about his age.

Stuttering
In case your young child stutters do not aim at the same kind of correction as the foregoing. Instead, act as if you did not notice his stuttering. If, however, you know the word he is trying to get and cannot, say it for him nonchalantly.

Don't hold your breath when he stutters, nor stare at his mouth. Breathe at your normal rate and look elsewhere without showing concern. Work with your doctor to build this child up physically, checking his diet and routine habits, including sleep.

Work chiefly on yourself for calm and poise. Let more things about the house go. Get more rest, relaxation and sleep. Speak in soft, quiet tones and try to create a serene atmosphere in the family with lots of family fun which is not too exciting.

A list of books from which to read to the baby and young child may be had, without cost, by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

What Noted People Say
(International News Service)
OTAWA—British Ambassador Lord Halifax points out that Americans generally feel that their future security depends on the overthrow of Hitler.

"The spirit is general throughout the United States, although there are a few here and there who differ and differ they do, that if Hitler gets his way it is not going to be any good for them personally or as a country."

SYRACUSE—Mayor F. H. La Guardia of New York warns that if the war ends with the destruction of Nazism and Fascism, America's work is not finished.

"We must adjust ourselves for the continuance of the progress we were making prior to the crisis. This cannot be done overnight—we must think of it now."

MINNEAPOLIS—Maj. Gen. Ellard A. Walsh calls for more good old-fashioned poker playing in the army.

"The army recreational program is well-meant but it is over-emphasized. If we had more good old-fashioned poker we'd have more real soldiers and fewer pampered sissies."

BURLINGTON, Vt.—Thomas R. Jones, chairman of the National Association of Manufacturers, objects to the use of troops to settle industrial disputes.

"One outspoken statement on subversive activities by our president would do more toward the fundamental settlement of the question of subversive activities in defense industries than a dozen seizure laws."

Japan never was more right than in its present attitude, which is reported to be that if it keeps on going something will happen.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 6:48. Sun rises tomorrow 5:19.

We used to have a lot of Independent Republicans. Now we have many Independent Democrats. Those independents always were organized to disorganize—and row!

About the worst thing a person can be called now is "Static."

Rather than a balanced budget, what old age craves is a soft mattress.

There are still a lot of birds who try to eat a great many roasting ears at one sitting—or maybe one standing.

SUIN' FOR DIVORCE
Even on our honeymoon my mother-in-law exerted domination. My wife cried for her mother the first night we came home, and the next night she slept with her mother. I had to sleep with some bald-headed uncle.

Ford displayed his new experimental plastic auto, 1,000 pounds lighter than metal ones; 12 years of research developed the plastic from soy beans, wheat and corn.

One in a million is only important because it is hard to locate. Some day we will say one in a billion.

Some chaps like to have their pictures taken with big fish. Some even borrow the fish for that purpose.

Mother says the only time Pap reads the obituaries is when he passes the city hall and sees the flag at half mast.

In Camden, N. J., Mrs. Elzie Southwick testified that her husband refused to take advantage of his marital status to escape the draft; he preferred the army. Her divorce was recommended.

"Why do you think so?"
"Because we are hitting more people than usual."

Walter Winchell has been digging up facts about kissing. It seems where a kiss is placed has a meaning all its own. A kiss on the forehead signifies respect and admiration for the intellect. Mr. Winchell gravely informs us. He knows better; a kiss on the forehead does not mean anything. The only kiss that means anything is on the lips. We do not need to explain the meaning of that kiss.

THE MAN WHO QUILTS
The man who quilts has a brain and hand as good as the next, but he lacks the sand that would make him stick with courage stout to whatever he tackles, and fight it out. He starts with a zip and solemn vow that he'll be showing the others how. Then something strikes his roving eye and the task is left for the bye and bye.

No man is beaten until he gives in. Hard luck can't stand for a cheerful grin. The man who falls needs a better excuse than the slacker's whining—what's the use? For the man who quilts lets his chances slip, just because he's too lazy to keep his grip. The man who sticks goes ahead with a shout, but the man who quilts joins the down-outs.

Many men have been known to pass on to another world, rather than give up trying to make a success of hard drinking.

A few days ago we told about getting a notice that a letter in the San Francisco postoffice addressed to us would be sent if we sent a one-half cent stamp. It was an advertisement card. We didn't even send another card back telling them to go to—

Really about all we know about the president's fishing trip is that if he had his picture taken a great many times.

There are many small boys who will not be annoyed by the scarcity of school teachers. In fact they will be pleased if the scarcity hits their school house.

"Her feet beneath her petticoat. Like little mice stole in and out." Contrast the poet's jubilant thought with modern styles. Legs, if you don't mind, Nor overlook the little big toes that steal in and out the micaceous in their dainty shoes.

Making it harder to get credit will not annoy some people. Those who got credit once and didn't pay.

We like to hear some of the big guys say the war will not last long, even if we do know they don't know what they are yapping about.

Mother says it's the punk guys Pap carries around to give the trade that has ruined his business.

Harking back to the Good Old Days, do you recall having seen a small child on a Friday afternoon in school making its first appearance to speak a piece? And that piece? You guessed it—"Twinkle, twinkle, little star; how I wonder what you are."

Then the little one may have forgotten his or her lines and broken down and cried before the whole school.

ANENT FINGERNAILS FOR MABEL V.

The female of the species, never has been quite content. And being clothed, but undomestic is what they most resent.

Consider first, a woman's hair. No doubt she's proud of that. She frizzes, tints, then up above—she adds a dinky hat.

She's falsified her natural shape, through many variations, suppressing curves or adding one to suit the mode's creations.

One time she'll strive to cover up all feminine appeals. Then suddenly her scant attire—most everything reveals.

She dashes color here or there, on velvet cheeks or paws. (Those lacquered things aren't finger nails, they're more like bloody claws.)

We're often shocked, but not surprised by her fantastic clothes. We might expect she'll file her teeth—wear ham-bones in her nose.

There's nothing much a man can do. It really doesn't matter. Until, like those Ubangi maids, each lip contains a platter.

The freedom of speech is a great thing—to keep people from making friends.

We like to see a young chap get up in the morning feeling like he could lick the world, but would rather not see him try it.

What's What At A Glance

Washington Awaits German Reaction Await Repression On Meet-At-Sea
Liquidation Of Adolf Is Mentioned

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21—Germany's reaction to the new world order agreed on by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill is being eagerly watched for in Washington, and no doubt in London.

There's no speculation as to whether Hitler's reaction. From the minute of the Roosevelt-Churchill program's publication it was accepted as a foregone conclusion that Adolf would be simply furious over it. The whole plan is an outline of what's hoped for "after the final destruction of Nazi tyranny." That, of course, essentially means Hitler. Much as he unquestionably needs to be exterminated, it's hardly to be expected that he'll be acquiescent.

The German people, however, may be more so. There's been some evidence of considerable discontent in the Fatherland with Berlin's regime, and it's seen as a possibility that the rank-and-file of its inhabitants, assured by the Roosevelt-Churchill statement that the democracies aim "not to penalize THEM, but actually to release 'em of Adolf and then let 'em profit by improved international conditions, will be as anxious as anybody else to have him liquidated.

Disarmament First
The chance is recognized that the average German will shy away from the Roosevelt-Churchill disarmament or arms limitation plan. The schedule of "the use of force" but it's made clear that countries like Germany and the rest of the Axis group are to be disarmed first; the democracies propose to remain pretty well armed, to keep the gangsters in order until the latter have demonstrated by a reasonably long period of probation, that they STAY decent into the indefinite future. Perhaps even a respectable, anti-Hitler German will object to this arrangement. He'll have brought it on himself by pitting up with Adolf. It's understandable that he may not like it.

As previously remarked, Washington's still WAITING for the Germans' reaction. Popular reactions don't manifest themselves very promptly in a censor-ridden realm like the Reich.

Not much attention's paid to Italy.

If Herr Hitler can be disposed of, few, if any, observers question that the Italians will flatten out over night, and be glad to do so. Their reactions don't amount to anything, either. If they have any, they can't show 'em while Adolf's on the job in Berlin. He already has their peninsula occupied by German soldiers.

Japan's regarded as likely to be impressed by the Roosevelt-Churchill declaration.

The Japs government is despotically all right, but it isn't a one-man affair like Adolf's or Duce Mussolini's. Adolf and Benito won't LET their countries come to the democracies' terms if they can help it, because, if they do, it'll mean good night for themselves personally. The Tokio crowd, though, might modify its policy without blowing up bodily.

Japan Might Revolt
It isn't certain to be sure, that an obvious fizzle of its Oriental expansion campaign wouldn't be followed by a revolution in Nippon. The Japs chronically are in terrible economic shape and now, naturally, it's about the limit, due to their prolonged war in China. It's said, too, that their troops on the Asiatic mainland are semi-mutinous over the idea of calling them off from their plundering in the Chinese area they've occupied, for service elsewhere. There also is a bit of Jap communistic sentiment. The recent attempted assassination of Vice Premier Kihiro Hiranuma in Tokio may have been symptomatic.

All the same, no single individual there is as conspicuously marked for the discard, if he shows any signs of weakening, as Adolf in Germany and Benito in Italy.

Speaking of dictators, Comrade Stalin's on Easy street, at least for the present.

The Germans are bothering him, indeed, but darned if he isn't actually popular in Washington and, I suppose, in London. His Washington embassy gets out news "releases" by the bale, classing the U. S. S. R. among the democracies.

The World and the Mud Puddles

NO GRUMBLING

"I've talked with hundreds of guys," says actor-draftee Jimmy Stewart, "and to get all they can out of their hitch in the army. And the army has plenty to offer."

That statement is a good thing to think about when you hear grumbling and grumbling about "sacrifice" in the name of American defense. You don't even need to remember that Jimmy Stewart exchanged a higher income as a movie idol than most of us ever aspire to, for an army check of $21 a month. It's enough just to know that red-blooded American kids with education and intelligence jobs careers and easier lives than the army routine still feel this country's grand enough to sacrifice a year of their lives and maybe more, for its protection. It makes the current petty squabbling, the demands and the belligerence over possible sacrifice repugnant things, and it renews one's faith in the future of this land.

A lot has been said and written about appendicitis.

It should be said and written over and over again.

Appendicitis is most dangerous to the young and the very old.

The death rate in these groups is 4 times that of other age groups.

An inflamed appendix should be removed at once to avoid perforation.

In this is done, death from acute appendicitis is rare at any age.

Delay in treatment and use of cathartics cause most deaths.

Hospitalization among the young and old is too often delayed.

The young person apparently has some familiar stomach upset.

The child's family is reluctant to call a physician.

Many old people habitually suffer from abdominal discomfort.

Suspicion of appendicitis should follow every abdominal pain.

BIRTHDAYS OF FAMOUS AMERICANS

(Compiled by Encyclopaedia Britannica)

AUGUST 22

1778—James Kirke Paulding, writer and politician. In Putnam County, New York. His best known novels are "The Dutchman's Fire-side," "Westward Ho!" and "The Old Continental." His "Life of Washington" went through nine editions. He was Secretary of the Navy in Van Buren's cabinet.

1844—George Washington DeLong, explorer, at New York City. As a lieutenant-commander in the navy, he led an arctic expedition in the "Jennett" in 1879. The ship was caught in an ice pack and drifted helplessly for nearly two years before she was finally crushed and sunk. All members of the expedition were lost, although DeLong got away in a boat and finally reached the mouth of the Lena River, only to die of starvation. His journal, in which he made regular entries until the day of his death, was published in 1883 under the title of "Voyage of the 'Jennett'."

1848—Melville Ellish Stone, journalist, at Hudson, N. J. He was one of the founders of the Chicago Daily News. Later he was for 28 years general manager of the Associated Press, which experienced a tremendous growth under his direction.

Another note from future historians: "The government faced the task of defending the nation despite strikers and restrictions by Congress."

Happigrams

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Instead of sending him to prison, a judge put a hit-and-run driver on probation on the condition that he contribute $500 a year to the support of his maimed victim.

In passing sentence, the judge commented that justice too often leaves out the interest of the injured party and, in safe-guarding the society, fails to safeguard those who have been damaged.

A year or two in jail inflicts not only a burden on the police treasury but may cause an added expense if the criminal's victim becomes a public charge.

There is hope for a society in which justice, usually pictured as blind, is administered by a far-sighted jurist.

Add horrors of war: If silk gets scarce, stockings may again be cotton where they don't show. And no woman likes cotton feet.

Americanism: Levying enormous taxes to pay for defense; continuing useless expenditures that mortgage what we're defending.

LATIN AMERICAN FLYERS

A CONTRIBUTION the United States contemplates to hemisphere defense is the training in the United States of 564 Latin American pilots and technicians to replace German flyers on air lines of South and Central America. The plan is still in its formative state.

If it is accepted by the republics below the Rio Grande in the spirit in which it is intended, it will be an important step in allaying uneasiness due to fifth column activities there. Chile is the latest country to have discovered Nazi plots against its safety. Bolivia only last month found it necessary to forestall a Nazi "putsch." There is reason to believe that the recent revival of border warfare between Peru and Ecuador was fanned, if not directly inspired, by Nazis.

Under circumstances like these it is easy to realize that German commercial control of the air could be a menace to the Panama Canal. Should Hitler's projected course of empire turn toward the Western World, the lack of trained Latin American flyers would be felt immediately.

A German line still operates up and down the coast of Brazil, which in one section has a large, influential and still growing German population that adheres to German speech and folkways. Naturally this group seeks to influence Brazil to await developments in Europe before committing herself to an anti-Hitler movement.

If this plan for training Latin American pilots in the United States wins Brazilian approval and should result some time next year in the replacement of all German flyers, it would be a big step toward hemisphere solidarity.

MONEY IN CIRCULATION

All countries, including the United States, are swelling the volume of money in circulation. If there is anything in the quantitative system of money for inducing inflation with vaulting commodity prices along the line, these circulation bulges should bring that about.

Germany has jumped its circulation to 18,600,000,000 marks, an advance of 70 per cent over two years ago. Only 1,600,000,000 marks of this is in coin. France shows a heavy increase in notes, but claims a 25 per cent gold backing for its issues, most of this gold being at Dakar and in the United States. Britain continues to pour out notes, reaching a new record in early August of 667,000,000 pounds. The claim is made in London that this is largely caused by growing payrolls.

That may or may not be a sound explanation. Many war causes can be behind the big bulges in circulation. Today the United States has more money issued than in any hour of its history.

TAX SOURCES

No gift of prophecy is required to foresee that the United States is headed for a Federal retail sales tax. Twenty years ago the idea was anathema. So, too, was the idea of a broad income tax base extending the levy to the lower income group.

Today with Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau bawling the urgent need of revenue and advocating broadening of the income tax base, Congress is under the necessity of reviewing its position on that question. The chances are that Congress will come around to acceptance of the lower exemptions by which the income tax base will be broadened. But the chances are also that Congress will not lower the exemptions drastically enough to raise the amount of revenue war defense makes mandatory.

One recourse will remain and Congress will come to it, to wit a Federal sales tax. It is a tax which will draw upon every purse. The public may or may not protest the tax when it is applied. Congress will find that it will have to take its chances on that.

NON-DEFENSE SPENDING

Government's debt passes the $50,000,000,000 mark, accounted for only in small part by national defense expenditures. These have hardly begun. How high the debt will ultimately go before the present emergency is met and passed is anyone's guess. The nation is committed to a military program that means billions of dollars more of debt in the face of the highest schedules of taxes Americans have ever had to face.

In the first five weeks of the present fiscal year spending rose to an average of nearly $1,800,000,000 a month. By the first of the next calendar year that level is expected to be far exceeded. There is nothing to be done about it, although many citizens may now wish they had been less complacent toward the profligacy practiced at Washington since the crisis arose.

That is water over the dam in large part, but not all. Omitting national defense expenditures for the five-week period, other expenditures were down less than $40,000,000 from a year ago. At that rate the reduction at the end of June 30, 1942, would fall far short of the $1,600,000,000 cut that Secretary Morgenthau said could be made in non-defense expenditures.

Japan never was more right than in its present attitude, which is reported to be that if it keeps on going something will happen.

One suggestion for solving the unemployment problem after the war is to put the boys to work selling the aluminum back to the donors.

New England Senators Ask Gas Investigation

Senator Maloney Of Connecticut Asks Investigation To Determine If Shortage Exists

By ROBERT A. MCGILL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—New England senators today pressed for a congressional investigation of the petroleum shortage as gasoline reserves on the crowded east coast dwindle and to a mere 10-day supply and delay was threatened in building pipelines to end the fuel famine.

With gas rationing almost certain to come sooner than most motorists believe, Senator Maloney, (D) Conn., author of a resolution calling for the probe, said it is necessary to determine whether a shortage actually exists.

Supporting him, Senator Danaher (R) Conn., said that Congress should determine whether the shortage "is real or artificial," and Senator Aiken, (R) Vt., said that "we have a very skeptical public in New England" and they "question" some of the facts regarding the oil situation.

Idle Tank Cars

Danaher said that he has seen several statements lately from Petroleum Coordinator Harold L. Ickes' office and elsewhere "which would indicate that the shortage is not as acute as it is reported to be." He added that the inquiry should determine the truth of reports that "there are thousands of idle tank cars that could be used for transporting oil to the east."

The New Englanders' statements came after Ralph K. Davies, acting in the absence of Ickes, vacationing in California, declared that the long-impending gasoline shortage in the East has now become a "reality." He reported that stocks of gasoline in the East dropped 893,000 barrels during the past week and that only 10 days of supply remains in storage on the Atlantic seaboard. Davies branded reports that there was no threatened shortage of gasoline as "phony" and "myths."

Maloney, whose resolution was referred to the Senate commerce committee, of which he is a member, said that the proposed inquiry will lay particular emphasis on the transfer of 50 American tankers to the British under the lease-lend act.

and the program of gas rationing. Asserting that "charges have been made that we have given away too many tankers," he said that "we should at least relieve the fears of the people and let them know what is expected of them." He said that the oil industry is confused over the rationing program and the industries using oil for fuel and other purposes "don't know what to do about it."

Who Builds Line?

At the same time, oil companies planned to carry to Congress an intra-industry quarrel over who shall build and operate a defense pipeline from oil fields in the West to Atlantic seaboard markets.

Senators Overton, (D) La., and Bilbo, (D) Miss., apprised of the differences, wrote to Ickes expressing their approval for a proposed 1,100 mile pipeline to run from Wichita Falls, Tex., through the producing fields of east Texas and Louisiana to Savannah, Ga.

This line, proposed by the Trans-American Pipeline Co., would deliver 70,000 barrels of crude oil daily through a 12-inch line, which can be completed in a few months. It would require only one-fifth of the amount of steel called for in the proposal of 11 major producing companies to build a 1,800-mile pipeline from Louisiana and Illinois fields to the New York-Philadelphia marketing areas.

Meanwhile, in New York, representatives of eastern refiners met to work out a formula whereby dealers in the next 30 days will receive less than 90 per cent of the amount of gasoline they sold in July.

Clarify Rationing

A spokesman at the petroleum coordinators office in Washington said that the formula probably would be made public today and would clarify the method filling station operators will use to apportion the smaller amount of gas among various types of consumers.

Davis declared that the shortage, occasioned by the "justified" transfer of an undisclosed number of oil tankers to the aid of Britain, is now beginning to be felt in the East and reflected in present statistics which show storage of all petroleum products at "dangerously" low levels.

"The figures now show the danger point to be approaching rapidly," he declared. "Shipments from the gulf have begun to drop." He reported that daily average requirements to supply the East from gulf sources now are 461,500 barrels of oil, while only 340,000 barrels were delivered daily during the past week, indicating an average daily "deficit" of 121,500 barrels.

He expressed concern over the mounting demand for both gasoline and heavy industrial oil in the East. Gasoline sales are running 12 per cent ahead of last year, while the demand for industrial oil is 10 per cent greater.

FOR BETTER SCHOOL MARKS

Two children attend the same school. The same instruction is given to both. Yet one gets good marks—the other poor.

Why? Not because one child is less intelligent than the other, but because his eyesight is not so good. He can't study his lessons as easily. He can't concentrate. The more he tries the more he falters. For eyestrain makes him nervous and irritable. His studies soon become distasteful as well as unintelligible.

OKLAHOMA OFFERS NEW ANIMAL STORY

McALESTER, Okla.—Add strange alliances:

A cat and a dog belonging to Stanley Neiswander teamed to capture an opossum in the Neiswander front yard.

Yapping and spitting awakened Neiswander about 3 a. m.

Grabbing a flashlight he went out to investigate.

The opossum, not playing dead by any means, was showing his fangs.

In front of him stood the cat, back arched and fur standing straight up.

In back was the dog, a terrier, teeth bared.

When the opossum tried to advance, the cat leaped to the attack. When he sought to retreat, the dog barred his path.

Neiswander broke the stalemate by grabbing the opossum and putting him into a box for safekeeping.

Roosevelt Arrives At Hyde Park Home

President On Saturday Will Greet Duke Of Kent At Hyde Park

(International News Service)

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 22.—President Roosevelt came home to his mother's estate on the Hudson today to greet another member of the Royal House of Windsor—the Duke of Kent, younger brother of King George VI, who now is completing a war time tour of Canada and the United States.

Kent was due to arrive at Hyde Park tomorrow afternoon. He will fly in from Canada to spend a week-end at the Roosevelt family home where King George and Queen Elizabeth made an impression in the course of their tour just before war broke out in 1939.

The presidential special train pulled in to the modest frame station at Hyde Park early this morning. Mr. Roosevelt left his private car shortly thereafter and motored down to the place of his birth.

Later in the day, the president was holding a press conference, from which may stem further light on the administration's moves to help Britain, Russia and China win the war against the Axis powers.

The custom of wearing black for mourning was introduced by Anne, queen of Charles VIII of France. On the king's death in 1498, she surrounded her coat-of-arms with black in token of widowhood, and clothed herself in black. Heretofore the prevailing habit was for widows to wear white.

Hired Hand Cuts Hay All Day, But On Wrong Farm

(International News Service)

FORT EDWARD, N. Y.—Austin Williams, owner of the Havarest Farms in the Town of Moreau, near here, thought when he hired a man to cut 160 acres of hay on his property that it would be a good job done. All of his hay remains standing but a neighbor's 20-acre field has been cut.

Williams told the story this way. When the hired man reported for work Williams waved his hand in the direction of the 160 acres and said, "There it is. Go ahead." Then he departed for the day. Came nightfall and the owner returned home, expecting to find his employee well along on his 160-acre job. Instead the Williams crop still waved proudly in the breeze while the neighbor's hay field had been mowed as slick as a whistle.

ORDER AUTOMOBILE MAKERS TO CURTAIL PRODUCTION

Must Reduce Output Of Automobiles Fifty Per Cent
Before Next July

By JACK VINCENT
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON Aug. 22—The nation's motor car industry on Thursday was ordered to cut automobile production 26 1/2 per cent during the next four months and progressively curtail future operations until they reach a 50 per cent cut for the model year ending next July.

The curtailment was ordered by OPM Director William S. Knudsen and Federal Price Administrator Leon Henderson at a meeting with 18 of the nation's automobile and parts producers.

Increase Trucks
While curtailment of passenger cars was asked, a substantial increase was ordered in the output of motor trucks in order to meet vital transportation and military needs.

Special arrangements were made for the smaller motor car producers, so that their cuts will be smaller than the so-called big three—General Motors, Chrysler and Ford.

Some OPM experts estimated that more than a quarter million men will be temporarily thrown out of work by the passenger car cut.

Under the quota set, only 817,000 passenger cars will be produced during August, September, October and November, compared with 1,113,000 during the same period last year and 1,560,000 during the four months ending the old model year, July 31 of this year.

The joint OPM-OPACS announcement said:

"The reduction in passenger car production during the current four months will average 26 1/2 per cent for the industry as a whole, compared with the corresponding month last year.

"The larger companies, General Motors, Chrysler and Ford, will make a 27 1/2 reduction while the other companies, Studebaker, Hudson, Nash, Packard, Willys Overland and Crosley will cut 20 1/2 per cent."

Explains Quotas
In explaining how the quotas were fixed, the OPM and OPACS said that passenger car production will be curtailed 26 1/2 per cent during the current four months, and progressively more in subsequent months, with the expectancy of a 50 per cent curtailment for the model year ending July 31, 1942.

During the model year just ended, 4,297,000 passenger cars rolled off assembly lines. Under the quotas, it is expected that total output during the present model year will be about 2,100,000.

At the same time, the priorities division of OPM announced that it is preparing a blanket preference rating order to help truck manufacturers to obtain scarce materials quickly. The order extends a preference rating of A-3 (the same previously granted for freight cars) to deliveries of critical materials required for heavy motor trucks, medium motor trucks, truck trailers, public passenger buses and replacement parts for trucks and buses.

The priorities, it was explained, are being granted to truck manufacturers on an estimated need for 1,189,000 trucks, approximately 200,000 more than was produced during the last model year.

"This estimate of truck requirements include vehicles for the United States army and navy, for the lease-lend program, for export to Russia and for vital domestic transportation needs," the announcement said.

Stop Unemployment
The announcement added that a joint committee of the industry and labor is being formed by OPM Labor Director Sidney Hillman to try "to head off in every way possible unemployment resulting from the curtailment of passenger car production."

It is estimated by OPM experts that the 50 per cent cut will throw between 250,000 and 300,000 men out of work. The committee was charged with carrying out a three-point program of (1) orderly transfer of workers to defense plants and training of workers for defense jobs; (2) transfer of workers to defense industries other than the defense work being taken over by the automobile industry; and (3) "fitting of additional defense work into equipment now devoted to passenger car production."

The OPM and OPACS said that the automobile industry would not be the only one to be hit, but that "similar curtailment of other durable goods industries will be carried out as quickly as possible in order to distribute equitably the materials remaining after defense needs are met."

The automobile quota for December, it was said, will be announced on Sept. 15 and the quotas for additional months will be announced on the 15th of each month thereafter.

Claims Living Costs Are Not Much Higher

Harrisburg Official Sees No Significant Change In Price Of Foodstuffs

By LEONARD APPELBAUM
International News Service Staff

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22.—Fears that increased living costs brought about by the present emergency would boost the price of food to record levels were largely discounted today by Deputy Secretary of Public Assistance Raymond T. Bowman who said he saw no cause for alarm.

The deputy secretary asserted that in his opinion there has been no significant change in the cost of living in Pennsylvania since the first of the year.

Board To Act

He admitted, however, that the State Board of Public Assistance, at its meeting in Harrisburg Sept. 23, would probably discuss increased relief grants. Relief families would be the first among the population to feel the impact of increased living costs.

"Personally I do not believe there has been any significant change in the cost of living since we created our relief budget," Bowman said. "He pointed out that a slight advance in food prices would work little hardship on relief recipients since the recently inaugurated stamp plan in Pennsylvania increases their food buying power by 50 per cent. In addition, he said, there is a direct distribution of food to needy persons in areas not yet benefiting from the plan."

"The stamp plan, however," he asserted, "is much more advantageous to the relief recipient than direct distribution."

Bowman said the assistance department hopes to extend the plan to 21 additional but undisclosed counties within the year.

Sections in Allegheny, Lackawanna, Cambria, Pike, Crawford, Erie, Indiana, Lehigh, Mercer, Montour, Northampton, Philadelphia, Somerset, Venango and Warren counties are now benefiting under the plan.

Indications were, however, that included among the extensions would be Lackawanna, Lehigh and Northampton counties where the cities of Scranton, Allentown and Bethlehem now have the plan in operation.

Food Stamps Help

Bowman added that the cotton stamp plan for providing needy families with clothing was "not moving fast in Washington."

The deputy secretary admitted that "there has been no change in state relief grants since 1937" but pointed out that the food stamp plan has been a material factor in stabilizing the payments.

The weekly food allowances per family now conform to the following schedule:

"One person, $2; two persons, $3.50; three persons, $4.75; four persons, $6; five persons, $7; and $1 increase per week for each additional person in a family."

"I think at the present time there is no pressing need to increase these food allowances in Pennsylvania," Bowman said. "However, if food prices should go up, the board will probably have to provide for increased payments."

George Junior Republic Grows

New Superintendent Tells Of Progress Made During Past Two Years

GROVE CITY, Aug. 22.—Each boy has a job, and is doing it, Supt. Arthur Prasse told Rotary Club members in a summary of progress made at the George Junior Republic here since he took charge two years ago. At that time, Supt. Prasse found 12 boys at the institution which now houses 82 youngsters learning to become good citizens. In the same period, 65 were "graduated," and only one came back for further training.

Supt. Prasse said that walls never reformed a delinquent boy. He did not assert that the Republic plan was the best solution, but he cited the fact that 18 citizens attended the local high school last year without a failure; that many citizens are employed part-time on nearby farms and in town, and there have been no complaints; and that there have been few delinquencies justly chargeable to the boys.

Gasoline Curfew Lifting Urged

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 22.—Lift the gasoline curfew from western Pennsylvania, or else extend it over the entire nation. That, in essence, was the demand Thursday of spokesmen for gasoline dealers and consumer motorists in the immediate Pittsburgh area.

John H. Donahue, president of the Associated Gasoline Retail Dealers of Allegheny county, telegraphed Ralph K. Davies, acting defense petroleum coordinator, that the curfew was unfair to western Pennsylvania, and urged that the situation be cleared of "inexcusable uncertainty."

CARTWRIGHT-HANNA WEDDING IN CHURCH

Simplicity marked one of the loveliest late summer weddings which was solemnized this morning at 9:30 o'clock in the Central Presbyterian church, the principals being Miss DeEtta Marie Cartwright daughter of Mrs. Florence Cartwright of 454 Croton avenue, and Donald M. Hanna, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hanna of Crescent avenue this city.

In the presence of a gathering of relatives and friends of the couple the vows were exchanged, with Dr. Robert Meade Patterson, pastor, officiating with the ring service.

The bride, given in marriage by her grandfather, James L. Maxwell was attractive in a street length powder blue organza dress, accented with white accessories, and a shoulder corsage of pink rose buds and baby's breath. She had as her attendants, Miss Dolores Moore who was attired in peach-over-sharkskin redingote, complimented with white accessories. Her corsage was identical to that worn by the bride.

Walter Nelson served as best man and ushering were William Hanna uncle of the bridegroom and Robert Maxwell, uncle of the bride.

Appropriate nuptial music was provided preceding and during the ceremony, with Miss Lucella Walters and Miss Joanne McCollum as soloists, who sang "At Dawning" with Miss Helen Ewing, organist, accompanying. The latter played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin and other nuptial selections.

Following a reception and breakfast for relatives and friends was held at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Maxwell on Croton avenue. Sharing were also Mr. and Mrs. Tad Karker grandparents and Mrs. Robert Hanna, grandmother of the bridegroom. The wedding theme was carried out in all details, and the traditional three tiered wedding cake, was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Lee Hanna aided Mrs. Florence Cartwright in serving.

The bride graduated from the local high school in 1940, attended Slippery Rock State Teachers College and she is employed at the Shenango Pottery. The bridegroom graduated in '38 from Union high and is associated with the Bell Telephone Company.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Hanna departed on a southern wedding trip and upon returning, will take up residence in the Penn Apartments on Neshannock avenue.

Out of town guests present were Miss Ruth Douthett of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Albert Hanna, Edward Hanna of Youngstown, O., Mrs. John Hieneman and children of Mercer, Mr. and Mrs. William Layton of Elizabeth, Pa., and Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Bailey of Weston, Ohio.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED AT SHOWER THURSDAY

Miss Teresa McGivern of 134 Boyles avenue, bride-elect of Amil Grooms on September 11th, was honored Thursday evening at a prettily appointed party, when a group of friends and relatives assembled at her residence, and tendered her a miscellaneous shower.

The honoree was presented with a collection of lovely gifts for use in her future home, which highlighted the happy occasion. A round of informal diversions ensued, with prizes falling to Mrs. Mary Kahner and Mrs. Mary O'Laughlin. Lunch was a later pleasure, and Mrs. James McGivern, mother of the honoree, aided with the dainty repast. Appointments were suggestive of the nuptial motif.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Herbert McGivern of Gary, Ind., Mrs. John Young, Jr., of Pittsburgh and Miss Sara Garrison of St. Petersburg, Fla.

Radio Industry To Get Supplies

Henderson Moves To Keep Radios Going In United States

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Federal price director Leon Henderson today took steps to keep America's 50,000,000 radio sets in operation. He allocated enough scarce national defense metals to manufacturers for needed replacement tubes and condensers, "to keep in operation the bulk of the radio sets in the United States."

The step was taken, Henderson explained, because "the maintenance of existing communications is considered essential to morale."

Manufacturers of tubes and condensers, he added, have found it difficult to obtain metals "in the face of increasing demands from the defense program and competing civilian industry."

Henderson's program stipulated that during the period from Aug. 20 through Nov. 30 the highest civilian rating shall be given to amounts of nickel, steel, aluminum, copper, chromium, tin, brass and other metals required to manufacture tubes and condensers. He said that enough would be made available "to take care of normal demand during October, November and December."

Local Soldier Leaves Hospital

Atlantic Fleet Ready To Repel Submarines

I. N. S. Reporter "Somewhere At Sea" With Fleet Finds It In Readiness

(Editor's Note: Nearly a month ago a group of newsmen were permitted by the navy—for the first time—to join the U. S. fleet guarding the vital sea lanes of the Atlantic. For more than three weeks the whereabouts of these reporters has been and still is a naval secret—a secret kept from the public, their offices and even their families. SOMEWHERE IN THE ATLANTIC, Aug. 7.—(Delayed)—With guns manned and ammunition uses set, a large unit of the Atlantic fleet today is keeping these waters open, ready to fire if there is the slightest threat of attack by surface, underwater, or aircraft of an unfriendly power.

Since leaving eastern ports for a sea rendezvous days ago, this unit composed of a variety of navy craft packing a tremendous punch, has traveled thousands of miles and many times picked up signals of submarines, but none has approached closer than three miles.

Ready For Sub
A warm reception was ready on the destroyer, on which I am a passenger, for one submarine which came that close. Depth charges were ready, torpedo tubes slung out over the side, machine and heavier guns manned, but the signal faded after a short run during which the sub skipper probably looked over the situation and decided to move on. That the subs are active is evi-

At Panuco Inquiry

Testifying before a Federal board of inquiry in New York, Capt. The flames which destroyed the Panuco as she was being loaded in Brooklyn, N. Y., started the worst fire in years on the New York waterfront.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

KILL WHITE GRUBS TO SAVE THE LAWN GRASS

Those brown spots in the lawn which look like grass killed by the hot, dry weather may instead be the result of the feeding of white grubs, the larvae of the May beetle. The dead grass probably will peel off the earth like a sheepskin and expose the white grubs, which have eaten off the roots of the grass plants.

Treatment consists of applying a mixture of 10 pounds of lead arsenate powder and 150 pounds of dry sand to each 1,000 square feet of turf area. Thoroughly mix the materials by shoveling over several times. To be effective, the mixture must be applied uniformly, either by broadcasting by hand or with a suitable distributor. After the application, the grass should be brushed or washed with water so that the poison will get to the surface of the soil. Such a treatment should protect the turf under average conditions against grub injury for at least five years. White grubs are especially numerous every three years.

Lead arsenate is a poison. Children and pets should be kept off the turf until it is well watered or until after a rain. The treatment must not be applied to pastures or other grazing land.

DAILY EXERCISE HELPS COLTS TO GROW RIGHT

Daily outdoor exercise helps to keep colts sound in their feet and legs. A colt's ribs begin with confinement, poor feeding and lack of exercise.

The horse is naturally an outdoor animal and for successful colt raising it is necessary to make conditions as natural as possible. This means getting the colts to pasture in the summer and letting them run on the pasture or in a paddock or lot in the winter.

Throughout the growing period the feet of the colts require close attention, since often it is necessary to trim the hoofs in order to correct imperfections caused by irregular growth or wear. By properly feeding and growing the draft colt, he may be safely put on light work as soon as he is past two years of age.

THORNE WHEAT STANDS OUT IN COMPARISONS

Outyielding its competitors by nearly 4 bushels an acre, Thorne, a relatively new Ohio variety, has been the best wheat in 23 of the 28 comparisons threshed to date this year in Pennsylvania. A year ago this variety was the high in four demonstrations in which it was included.

J. B. R. Dickey, in charge of agronomy extension work for the Pennsylvania State College, considers this showing remarkable because Thorne was compared with the best commonly known varieties, such as Forward and Leaps Profligate.

In York county, Thorne was compared with the farmer's variety, generally Forward, on eight farms and outyielded it in all cases except one by an average of nearly five bushels an acre.

The department of agronomy of the college conducted wheat variety tests at State College and also in Perry and Clinton counties. In these tests Yorkwin averaged 43.1 bushels an acre; Thorne, 42.9 bushels; Cornell 5-7, 41.1; Nittany (Pennsylvania 44), 40.6; Prufok, 38.6; Leaps Profligate, 37.6; and Forward, 36.1 bushels. Here again, Thorne outyielded the common varieties by an average of 2.5 to 6.8 bushels.

Thorne is a beardless wheat with red chaff. It seems to stand up better than Forward and does not shatter to any extent. The berry is red and apparently of good milling quality. On thin soils the straw is inclined to be short, but where lodging is likely to be serious it makes plenty of straw, stands up well, and seems ideal. Thorne seems to be reasonably hardy. It has become very popular in Ohio, and certified seed is available there in quantity. About a thousand bushels of seed were brought into Pennsylvania last fall, mostly into Lancaster and York counties.

Purkof, another smooth wheat, is the hardest wheat adapted to Pennsylvania so far developed. It is not popular with millers, however, on account of its hardness but it is all right for poultry and other feeding purposes. It is desirable primarily where winter injury is severe and has been grown successfully in the north tier of counties where it should help greatly to make wheat a profitable feed crop.

One farmer in Potter county this year combined over 1,000 bushels of Purkof, sown after early potatoes last year, from 27 acres. In a demonstration in Elk county Purkof yielded at the rate of 48.5 bushels of grain and 4,765 pounds of straw an acre.

Yorkwin, a beardless white wheat from New York, has shown promise where its color is not a serious objection. The Cornell 5-7, also from New York, is a beardless red wheat. Both have outyielded the common varieties, but in the extension demonstrations they have fallen below Thorne where compared with it. Neither seem to have the hardness of Purkof for late sowing in the northern counties.

LICE AND MITES ATTACK FOWLS IN HOT WEATHER

One way to look for lice and mites, particularly during a busy season, is to look for lice and mites. The body lice live on the birds all the time and can be found by looking under the vent and wings. The use of nicotine sulfate is the common control. A thin stream of this material is spread on top of the roosts about a half-hour before the hens go to roost. An old oil can is a handy container to use for spreading the material. The treatment must be repeated in about 10 days. Be sure to clean the roosts before spreading the material and have the pen well ventilated.

Mites live in the cracks of the roosts during the day and crawl on the birds at night to suck blood. On the roosts they have a salt and pepper appearance. They are easily eliminated by painting a reliable red mite paint on the roosts, being sure that the paint gets into the cracks. Since the nests may contain mites, it is advisable to paint them, too.

Both lice and mites are likely to appear in the range houses. Therefore, these buildings should be checked carefully during hot weather, and treatment, when necessary, after the laying house is cleaned properly prior to housing the pullets, both roosts and nests should be treated to guard against mites.

VITAMINS MAKE TOMATO VALUABLE HUMAN FOOD

The tomato is one of the vegetables grown in Pennsylvania which has an abundance of vitamin C, according to Mrs. Julia Taylor, home economics extension representative of Lawrence county. In addition, the tomato almost runs the gamut of the vitamin alphabet. One medium-sized, red tomato will furnish about half of a day's requirement for ascorbic acid or vitamin C and about one-fifth of the vitamin A needs for a day. Also, it will contribute some B1, vitamin G, and the pellagra-preventive vitamin.

There are other reasons why the tomato is such a favorite. It has strong eye appeal with the bright "tomato red" of its coloring. In fact, so eye appealing was it to some 17th Century Englishmen that they grew the tomato purely for its ornamental value. Another is that it passes all taste tests with its matchless flavor.

As this season of the year, tomatoes are beginning to appear in quantity on our local markets. In fact, during the next three weeks, tomatoes will probably reach their peak in both quantity and quality.

Tomatoes are delicious either fresh in salads or sandwiches. But the homemaker is wise to can them in sundry forms when the supplies are largest, for use later.

It is reassuring to those who can tomatoes at home to know that experiments have shown tomatoes put up by recommended home canning methods still rate as good sources of vitamin C, even though there is some loss of that vitamin in storage after canning.

Tomatoes are easier to can at home than most vegetables because, unlike most vegetables, they are acid foods.

Any woman who puts up part of her tomatoes as juice will be congratulated when she sees that tomato juice is a refreshing, nutritious appetizer. In fact, one cup of it fairly thick with pulp will furnish all the day's requirement for vitamin C.

POULTRY INDUSTRY IN LOUISIANA IS IN GOOD SHAPE

(International News Service) BATON ROUGE, La.—The Louisiana State University agricultural experiment station experts are "encouraged" by the condition of the state's poultry industry.

They dug into the old statistics and compared notes of the 1930-1940 decade with the previous one. "The most encouraging fact is that between 1930 and 1940 we had a growth of more than 250 per cent in egg capacity of hatcheries in Louisiana," said Dr. C. W. Upp, head of the poultry research at the university.

"Further evidence of growth is reflected in increased membership in the State Poultry Improvement Association. Organized in 1936 with about 250 flock-owners, in 1940 membership had grown to approximately 1,000."

Dr. Upp undertook the research after it was shown that there had been a 10.8 per cent decrease in the number of chickens in the United States in the past 10 years.

NO FIRST AID CALLS ON OLD TIMERS DAY

Those in charge of the station were: Elmer Tinstman, Mrs. Jos. Dagnion and Mrs. Plummer Gibson.

Three-Alarm Fire
In Philadelphia

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 22.—Fourteen firemen were overcome by acrid smoke Thursday while battling a three-alarm blaze which swept through the basement of the parochial school adjoining the Church of the Transfiguration in West Philadelphia.

Those overcome were carried from the building by other fire fighters. After being treated by hospital emergency crews at the scene, 55th street and Cedar avenue, they were taken to Misericordia hospital. Doctors described the conditions of four of the men as serious.

The origin of the blaze, which cast a pall of black smoke over the neighborhood, was not immediately determined. The first firemen to reach the school—closed for the summer—turned in additional calls for help and with the added manpower and equipment kept the flames from attacking other structures on the property.

Hired Girl Now Disappearing; Is Defense Worker

 Forsakes Domestic Duties To Aid Government At Increased Wage

By MARIE MANNING
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—It's well that we're living in the gadget age, for the "hired girl," as she was called a generation ago, is rapidly becoming extinct. We recognize her now, better dressed and happier looking as the defense worker.

With conspicuous feminine tact, the women's bureau of the department of labor has not referred to, or followed the evolution of the "hired girl" into the government worker. But in the considerable volume of literature it has put out concerning women's employment, it has suggested training for these defense jobs and told women the work is to be had for the asking.

From all accounts, the wails of housewives and the absence of applicants in employment agencies, the "hired girl" did not wait for Godspeed from the woman's bureau, department of labor. Over a year ago she began to pack her belongings and betake herself to factories, making machine tools, airplane engines and munitions. If she hadn't the necessary equipment to take such work, she prepared herself in defense vocational courses, and rejoined in the industrial expansion which took her out of some other woman's kitchen.

And who can blame the "hired girl"? She gets better wages, shorter hours, has all her evenings and Sundays off, and positively no feeling of inferiority in holding down a government job.

At Prison Confab

One of the most attractive delegates at the convention of prison custodians in San Francisco is Giselle Shaw, representing Argentina's Minister of Justice. It was at this conference that it was proposed the United States permit conjugal visits to prisoners, as is the custom in Mexico, to help stamp out perversion among inmates.

ROAD SQUABBLE BRINGS THREAT OF CITY'S SECESSION

(International News Service)
GROVE, Okla.—This northeastern Oklahoma community, virtually isolated from the rest of the state by the rising lake of Grand River Dam, is threatening to "secede" from Oklahoma and become a part of Arkansas—unless the state highway commission does not build new roads soon.

Grove is cut off even from Jay, the Delaware county seat, and has access to the outside world only through Arkansas and Missouri. Other northeastern Oklahomans are clamoring for action also. The people of Ottawa and Craig counties, as well as those in Delaware county are angered at being cut off from Tulsa, Oklahoma City and the other large communities.

U. S. Highway 39 is inundated at two points, U. S. 60 is almost ready to go under water, portions of State Highway 10 are flooded and a half-dozen important farm-to-market roads are now part of the lake bottom.

Gov. Leon C. Phillips declared

Former Students Meeting In Park

Former teachers and students of Thaddeus Stevens school are convening from all over the tri-state area, as well as from several more distant points, to attend their third annual reunion today at Cascade park. Advance reports indicate that this year's crowd will be the largest yet.

Committees in charge of the event have been working hard to make this year's reunion successful, and extensive program plans have been made. A public address system has been set up to facilitate activities, and the first aid division of the American Red Cross has established a temporary station in the grove to take care of any emergency.

'42 CARS WILL HAVE MANY NEW PLASTIC PARTS
WILMINGTON, Del.—More than 120 parts of your 1942 automobile will be made of plastics, according to the DuPont company. Eventually the percentage may go even higher than that, because there are more than 225 possible applications of these parts. There are 110 plastic parts in the composite 1941 car, ranging from upholstery buttons to steering wheel, pedals to glass interlayers.

Why the trend to plastics? Well, explains DuPont, certain metals are being requisitioned for national defense needs. But then again, plastics have, in addition to durability, new color, beauty, lighter weight and economy.

FBI Is Active In Tracking Down Draft Violators

G-Men Are Probing 20,000 Draft Violations And Have Convicted Many

By ALLAN J. FUNCH
International News Service
Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH—A warning to eligible men to obey the selective service act "to the letter" was issued here recently as it was revealed that more than 20,000 draft act violations are now under investigation by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Joseph E. Thornton, agent in charge at Pittsburgh, disclosed that the FBI has already convicted 226 individuals of draft violations and that 65 others are being sought for attempting to dodge the act. He warned:

"Young men of draft age should be careful to obey the letter of the law. Having the registration card in one's possession at all times may seem trivial, but it is not.

"Such failure or inability to show the card to a proper official on request is a violation of the Selective Service regulations. What is more, it is prima facie evidence of failure to register."

Leniency Is Exercised
Thornton declared that the G-Men and Selective Service officials were exercising the greatest possible leniency in prosecuting suspected draft dodgers. He explained:

"Many of the delinquencies are not intentional and the delinquents are given an opportunity to clear up the entire matter before prosecution is undertaken.

"Thousands of cases have been closed by the FBI because compliance with the act has been effected."

It was pointed out that the greatest number of convictions under the law have been for an initial failure to register.

"Even here," the G-Man said, "much leniency is shown if a willingness to register is indicated. A policy of sternness, however, has been invoked against those who have flouted the law and refused to register."

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Aug. 22.—Because of the unusual number of positions open this year in defense industries, Westminster college expects a heavy enrollment this fall of "special students" taking a limited number of courses. Many of these students will probably commute to college.

Enrollment will probably be higher in the fields of mathematics, pre-engineering, chemistry, and physics. Special classes will be offered this fall in Descriptive Geometry, Engineering Drawing, and allied courses.

Enrollment for classes is open to all students throughout the summer with regular registration set for Sept. 16-17.

"Special Students" taking a limited number of hours pay for their education on the basis of eight dollars an hour.

British Aircraft Carrier Damaged, Is In U. S. Port

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Disclosure that the British aircraft carrier 11-lustrous has been damaged, and now is under repair in an unnamed American shipyard was made today by the British press service under authorization of the British ministry of information.

The revelation was made through the announcement that Lord Louis Mountbatten's arrival in New York earlier this week was for the purpose of taking command of the 11-lustrous.

The announcement said: "The ministry of information in London has authorized the British press service to announce that Capt. Lord Louis Mountbatten, who arrived at LaGuardia Airport on Tuesday, August 19, on board a transatlantic clipper, has come to the United States to take command of the British aircraft-carrier 11-lustrous and supervise her repairs in an unnamed American shipyard."

Lord Louis Mountbatten who is a cousin of King George VI, has been a member of the Royal Navy since becoming a cadet in 1913."

Latin Americans Given Warning By Secretary Hull

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Secretary of state Cordell Hull today issued an implied warning to the Latin American nations that they face semi-slavery if Adolf Hitler gains control of the South American continent.

Denying as wholly without basis, German propaganda minister Joseph Goebbels charge that the United States is seeking to transform the Latin Republics into American colonies, Hull said he thought the only real concern of the Latin American countries is to avoid that same state of semi-slavery under Hitler that 15 countries of Europe have experienced since the Nazis conquered them.

Goebbels charges were made in an interview published yesterday in the Madrid newspaper, Informaciones.

MODEL RAILROADS FOUND EXCELLENT AS JOINT HOBBY

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO—More than 30 local business executives, doctors and government employees meet every Tuesday night to further their joint hobby—model railroads.

Banded together for more than four years as the San Francisco Model Railroad Club, Inc., the group meets in a building provided by the Southern Pacific Railroad. Over an intricate railroad system which includes miniature mountains, forests and streams, as well as urban and suburban areas, they operate their home-made models.

President Joseph Brun, chain grocery executive, said they prefer to adapt their models to exact replicas of the rolling stock of famous roads already existing. Most intricate and difficult to build are the locomotives, which also are the most valuable, often being insured for as high as $600.

The hobby now has reached the point where a national association has been formed to standardize model making from a manufacturing standpoint. In addition, there are four leading model railroad magazines, carrying such advertisements as "A new freight hog for your pike (railroad line), ready for shipping, $39.50."

WAR INFLUENCES THINKING OF '41 AMERICAN YOUTH

(International News Service)
CHICAGO—War is influencing the thinking and aspirations of the 1941 youngster, it was revealed by the Reed poll, designed to determine what the American child is thinking.

About 27 per cent of youngsters between the ages of eight and 13 questioned by the poll believed that the United States should go to war against Germany now.

Twenty per cent of the boys surveyed wanted to be airplane pilots when they grew up. Ten per cent wanted to be soldiers and five per cent sailors. Seven per cent of the boys wanted to be firemen; and only four per cent wanted to grow up to be president.

Nineteen per cent of the girls wanted to be nurses and ten per cent listed teaching school as their ambition. Only two per cent of the girls indicated they wanted to be homemakers.

Threat Letter Writer Is Held

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—Held in $10,000 bail on a charge of writing threatening letters to President Roosevelt, Albert J. Dreveny, 30, itinerant, was questioned by F. B. I. agents for the third day today as a suspect in the 1936 kidnapping of little Charles Matton of Tacoma.

Dreveny was said to have admitted he had written letters threatening the life of the President and the attorney general, and that in one letter he threatened to murder a child and "shock the nation" if he was "molested by New Deal relief agencies."

Grilled by G-men because of his resemblance to descriptions of the Matton kidnaper, Dreveny denied he was in Tacoma at the time of the crime, but agents said he gave conflicting accounts of his whereabouts at that time.

DEFENSE EFFORT GIVES MEN OVER 40 NEW CHANCE

(International News Service)
NEW ORLEANS—Men over 40 once were in greater danger of developing inferiority complexes than was any other age group, considering the literature, health foods and doctors catering to them.

But the national defense program is a boon to those who have reached that dreadful milestone, insists Major Leonore R. Legendre, representative of the Washington office of the American Legion.

Men over 40, due to their experience, have fine opportunities for getting good jobs, says Major Legendre.

Speaking to 150 representatives from 11 Southern states at the Area "C" Rehabilitation Conference, he cited many instances when employment services "are crying for veteran applicants to fill jobs created by the national emergency."

FIRST IN WAR—
John Marshall, in his address on the death of George Washington, coined that historic phrase, "First in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

Old coins should never be cleaned to make them saleable. Experts claim cleaning always detracts from the coin's value and has been known to make a good coin practically worthless.

When President Thomas Jefferson took possession of the White House it was still unfinished. The principal staircase was not built, and the East Room and some of the upstairs apartments had not been plastered.

Nazis Continue Jewish Arrests

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Latest arrests in Paris have brought the number of people detained in the former French capital to 150,000, a London radio message picked up today by NBC reported.

The radio said the prisoners are charged with being "Jews, foreigners, and political suspects."

The London broadcast also quoted the German-controlled Brussels radio as admitting that in Rumania 200 persons have been arrested in the last few days for spreading pro-Russian leaflets.

DISOBEYS ORDER GETS TEN YEARS

lectee, Col. Charles B. Elliott, post commander at Fort Bragg, described it as in line with the charges.

Asked if he considered the 10-year and nine months sentence very severe, Col. Elliott replied:

"No, as a matter of fact he could have been given 20 years."

In all, six charges of insubordination were filed against Habinyak and the selectee pleaded guilty to all.

However, Col. Elliott refused to approve one of the six charges leveled against him.

The charge disapproved by Col. Elliott was that on July 4 Habinyak "willfully" disobeyed an order to stand at attention.

"It was shown," explained Col. Elliott, "that while Habinyak was slow and sulky about it the fact remains that he did finally stand at attention."

It was on July 4, shortly after he was placed in Battery B, first battalion, first training regiment of the field artillery, that the New York selectee first got into difficulties.

He was ordered June 26, on that day, First Lieut. Leo J. Kraus instructed Habinyak to clean up his "mess kit". Instead of following instructions Habinyak "willfully" disobeyed the order.

Next charge against Habinyak asserted that he "willfully" disobeyed an order given by Lieut. Col. Lower P. Bowers to pick up pieces of broken concrete.

The third charge was that he "willfully" disobeyed an order to clean up the floor around and under his bed.

Fourth charge was that Habinyak was guilty of exasperation on the floor of the mess hall.

Fifth charge was that when he was ordered to clean up "the salvia" Habinyak "willfully" disobeyed.

The charges against Habinyak were pressed before an army court-martial. During the entire proceedings Habinyak offered only a plea of guilty. Sentence was passed and the matter came up before Col. Elliott, post commander, for final approval.

It was after Col. Elliott approved the sentence that the army officially revealed the findings in the case.

Under the dishonorable discharge, Habinyak was stripped of all army insignia and clothing given him when he was inducted.

Col. Elliott said no appeal was made by Habinyak so that as far as the Fort Bragg command is concerned the case is officially closed.

Washington, Aug. 22.—Asserting there was evidence of "injustice and brutality," Rep. Young (D-O., today called on Secretary of War Stimson to review the trial of Private John Habinyak, 26-year-old New York selectee, who was sentenced to ten years and nine months of hard labor for "insubordination."

"This appears to be a most amazing and outrageous act of injustice and brutality toward a soldier," Young declared in a letter to Stimson. "I urge that you give this important matter your immediate attention."

The congressman called for a thorough investigation and urged modification "to a few weeks imprisonment in the guard house."

Referring to Lieut. Leo J. Kraus, whom Habinyak allegedly disobeyed, and Col. Charles B. Elliott, post commander at Fort Bragg, Young wrote:

"Doubtless Lieut. Leo J. Kraus is a fresh officious officer who is not worth his salt in private life and if this tremendous sentence of ten years and nine months penal servitude and a dishonorable discharge meted out to a selectee service soldier for some trivial offenses within ten months of his induction into the army, it is a sample of the judgment of Col. Charles B. Elliott, God help his regiment if this nation becomes involved in war."

"The conduct of this entire proceeding by Col. Elliott and Lieut. Kraus should be thoroughly investigated and without a doubt this sentence should be set aside and modified to a few weeks imprisonment in the guard house; in fact very likely Col. Charles B. Elliott should be removed forthwith from his command."

ANOTHER LINER SWEEP BY FIRE

the ship's siren attracting the attention of the three men—Richard Cox, Robert White, and Charles Higgins—who sounded a police alarm and rushed to the rescue in a 40-foot sailboat.

Crew Gets Off
Making three trips to the vessel, they removed the entire crew. Four police boats, the fireboat John Duane, 10 radio cars, two emergency squads and two ambulances were sent to the scene. The coast guard cutter Arundel and the fireboat poured streams of water on the burning ship. Local police notified the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The fire was believed to have broken out in the No. 3 hold of the 400 foot ship, which was built in 1938. The Aurora has been anchored in the Hudson for the past four weeks.

As the fire raged on a heavy list developed in the Aurora and fear was expressed that the vessel might sink.

The blaze and column of smoke pouring from the ship attracted the attention of thousands of commuters who streamed over the George Washington bridge from New Jersey and lined the West Side highway or any other vantage point. Cause of the fire was not determined.

The blaze aboard the Aurora was the second ship fire in New York this week.

Last Monday, the Cuba mail line freighter Panuco and a Brooklyn pier burned with a loss of at least 19 lives. Two crew members and 10 longshoremen still are listed as missing.

JUDGE DAVIS' FATE IN JURY'S HANDS

failed to a free on a verdict. They are accused of conspiracy to obstruct justice and defraud the government in connection with the bankruptcy proceedings against William Fox, one-time millionaire movie magnate. The current retrial began July 28.

More Instruction
Two hours after the court opened this morning, the jury of nine men and three women filed into the courtroom to receive further instructions from Judge Hugh D. McLeelan, of Boston, specially presiding on order from the U. S. supreme court. Judge McLeelan advised the jurors he could not grant a request for a stenographic copy of the testimony of Davis, Fox and Kaufman, and said that they would have to rely on their own recollections. The jurist added, however, that it was permissible for the court to explain any specific points the jury found confusing.

Court attaches asserted the request for a transcript of testimony indicated the jurors, who were given the case at 7:11 last evening, were having trouble agreeing on an interpretation of the evidence.

Among those awaiting the verdict were a number of relatives of the defendants, including Judge Davis' brother, James Mercer Davis, a Trenton, N. J., lawyer, and two sons, John W. Jr., and Robert M. Davis.

MAID CONFESSES

Sickles summer cottage. The housemaid was charged with grand larceny and malicious mischief.

Solution of the case came when police who were called in after the suicide attempt recovered the woman's name as that of a maid in Sickles' employ who had "discovered" the pictures were missing. When she recovered consciousness she confessed and told of her resentment at being told to go to the summer cottage.

She said:

"I didn't like it and I wanted to hurt him. So when I went down I cut one of the pictures out of its frame and took two others and threw them in the fire."

"I watched them burn up."

"Then I began to feel remorseful. I was ashamed of what I had done. That's why I wanted to die."

The painting destroyed were Gainsborough's "Wayfarer" insured for $4,000 and his "Black Boy" insured for $25,000. The third picture burned was "Charles the Bold" insured for $15,000 and the work of a member of the School of Rogier Vandeweyden.

Gen. A. R. Chaffee Dead In Boston

"Father Of Mechanized Army" Succumbs To Physical Breakdown

(International News Service)
BOSTON, Aug. 22—Major General Adna R. Chaffee, father of the American blitzkrieg troops and first commander of the United States army armored forces, died today at Phillips House, Massachusetts general hospital. General Chaffee suffered a physical breakdown following intensive work in building up the mechanized forces.

War department officials said that Major General Chaffee, who was 57 years old, sacrificed himself that the army might be thoroughly mechanized.

Early Advocate
General Chaffee first began urging creation of a mobile striking force for the army in 1933 as a general staff officer.

Although other officers at the War College termed his ideas "impractical," he was summoned to Fort Knox, Ky., with other officers who thought as he did, to organize the army's first mechanized cavalry.

When the European war flared and Nazi panzer divisions scored victories with blitz tactics, General Chaffee was entrusted with command of the First Armored Corps of the United States Army with a big problem ahead of developing mechanized troops.

At the height of his building program, he was stricken with pneumonia. He returned to duty quickly but the rigors of last winter and his tireless work brought about his breakdown.

Was Decorated
He won the distinguished Service Medal during the last world war and was presented an Oak Leaf cluster.

Shortly before his death, the United States senate confirmed his nomination by President Roosevelt for permanent appointment as a major general, a rank he had held only temporarily.

Officers who watched his campaign to take the army out of the horse and buggy stage described him as "extremely energetic and unassuming, a sound and brilliant thinker and a superior leader."

General Chaffee had been a patient at Phillips House for several months.

State WPA Quota Of 50,000 Seen

In November 1938 There Were 288,000 On WPA, Figures Reveal

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 22—A quota of 50,000 W. P. A. employees in Pennsylvania was foreseen today by Col. Philip Mathews, state administrator.

"It's a pure guess," he said, "but I do anticipate a reduction to about that minimum as the national defense program progresses."

The state's W. P. A. rolls now list approximately 71,483 workers after declining from a record high of 288,000 in November, 1938.

Mathews said that the federal agency would not start new projects unless of an emergency nature. "As we finish jobs today," he explained, "we are going back and picking up the ones suspended last July, as we are doing everything possible to complete our contracts with the sponsors."

Mathews said that emergency jobs were underway at Indian town Gap, Middletown, Philadelphia and Carlisle while other projects being rushed to completion were airports at Erie, Johnstown, Reading and Williamsport.

Action Of Liquor Board Defended

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 22—Fred T. Gelder, chairman of the liquor control board, today defended the board's action in permitting a Titusville cafe to pay a $10 a day compromise instead of suspending business for 20 days.

"All there is to it," he declared, "is that the legislature set up the right to compromise a suspension at $10 a day and it's being pretty generally invoked."

The board was criticized by the Crawford county district attorney who charged that the cash-compromise settlement was "little more than buying protection and the right to immunity from punishment for violating the law."

President Says Sen. Byrd Wrong

Cites Facts To Show That "Somebody Sold Byrd Down The River"

By GEORGE DUNNO
International News Service Staff

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 22.—President Roosevelt took sharp issue with critics of administration efforts to guide foreign policy and aid Britain today, aiming his shafts notably at Senator Harry Flood Byrd (D) Va., who charged that defense production was lagging badly, and at Rep. Ham Fish (R) N. Y., who said defeat of Germany would lose the United States world markets.

The president cited facts and figures from the war department to prove that somebody had sold Byrd down the river.

As Fish's recent Philadelphia speech was concerned, Mr. Roosevelt recalled the classic error of the late Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, who told a White House conference in July, 1939, that his best information indicated there would be no war that year.

Except for the figures on airplane production—which the president said came from O.P.M.—all of Byrd's production calculations were branded most inaccurate and somewhat misleading.

Getting around to Fish, who is the congressman for the president's district, and ranking Republican member of the house foreign affairs committee, Mr. Roosevelt recalled the insistence of the late Senator Borah that there would be no war in 1939. He gave reporters a brief picture of the upstairs White House conference at which Borah had listened gravely to Secretary of State Hull's best information and then announced that his independent sources reported quite to the contrary.

The president was primed with war department and O.P.M. figures on defense production as he received reporters informally in his Hudson Valley study.

Refuting Senator Byrd, Mr. Roosevelt read from a memorandum as follows:

Byrd said not a single tank had gone to England. Actually, hundreds have been turned over, and some are performing notably in Egypt.

Byrd said 90 mm anti-aircraft gun production was geared at only 4 a month. The president said 61 actually are called for in each of the last four months this year.

Byrd's figure on monthly production of 37 mm anti-tank guns was set at 15. The president reported that 72 were turned out in July, 160 in August and 320 were anticipated for September.

The senator declared only fifteen 81 mm mortars were being turned out monthly. Mr. Roosevelt's figures showed that 221 had been manufactured in July, 340 in August and an even larger number was expected for September and October.

The plane figures Byrd uses, Mr. Roosevelt said, were substantially correct except that he had reported a production decline in May, June, and July. During that period, the president's figures showed, production of fighting planes had remained steady while output of training planes had increased. The president said Byrd's plane figures coincided with those of O.P.M.

Relying on his memory, in the matter of estimated production as against actual delivery, Mr. Roosevelt said he believed William S. Knudsen, O.P.M. chief, had set a plane goal of 1,500 for July and the factories actually had turned out 1,465.

Russia Needs Aid For Iran Borders

By MERRILL MUELLER
International News Service Staff

LONDON, Aug. 22.—The growing need for British and American aid to Soviet Russia by way of Iran was emphasized by the London press today with disclosure that both Britain and the Soviet Union have concentrated strong forces along the Iranian border.

These will be put to use, it was said, if 3,000 Germans, allegedly potential fifth columnists, are not speedily ejected by Iran.

The military correspondent of the London Evening Standard said that "heavily reduced" Russian equipment must be replenished "in a matter of weeks" if the Soviets are to continue their resistance against the German invasion.

"In India," the correspondent wrote, "we have accumulated resources."

"We have many lorries with men available to take in supplies. They would have to go in across Iran."

"That country in any event cannot escape what is coming to it."

The Standard warned Iran that Nazi agents now in the country are likely to dynamite important roads unless Britain moves swiftly.

Despite reports to the contrary, government officials said that no actual move into Iran has yet been made.

Vichy, Aug. 22.—Marshal Henri Petain, French chief of state, today received Moshen Rais, the new minister from Iran.

Strict Measures As Health Guard

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 22.—Stricter quarantine measures for the control of infantile paralysis, which so far has struck down 135 persons, were forecast today by Dr. J. Moore Campbell, state health conservation director. About 10 persons have died this year from the disease which is prevalent in 25 counties.

"A 14-day quarantine of all children after they return from vacations in the infected areas will go far toward curtailing the spread of the malady," said Dr. Campbell.

"In addition," he said, "we plan to impose the same restrictions on college students regardless, even if it prevents them from returning to their classes on schedule. It is far better to delay their return to the campus than to take chances on spreading the disease."

Dr. Campbell discounted reports that the epidemic was assuming statewide proportions. He admitted that York county was the "hot spot" and that the disease has spread to six or seven neighboring counties in abnormal proportions, but "not too rapidly, I'm glad to say."

The peak of disease will probably be reached in October," he said "and affected districts still face a six weeks' siege."

Meanwhile, Philadelphia authorities took steps to guard against the spread of the malady by barring all children under 12 from public and private swimming pools in the city for the remainder of the summer.

York county, focal point of the disease, appropriated $10,000 for the payment of expenses incurred in the care and treatment of stricken citizens. Two little girls joined the swelling ranks of the county's 37 patients yesterday. Authorities said they shared the same lilypond and contracted the disease.

Lancaster county reported a second victim when a five-year-old Richard Swartz died in an iron lung.

German Warplanes Attack Leningrad

(International News Service)
MOSCOW, Aug. 22.—In furious all-out attacks, German warplanes are relentlessly bombing Leningrad's principal airbase in a systematic attempt to knock out the city's aerial defenses before launching a bombing attack on the metropolis itself, the official Soviet army newspaper Red Star said today.

While dispatches from Leningrad reported the people's army enlisted to defend the former Russian capital against German siege, was growing by the tens of thousands, the newspaper Red Star said:

"The attack on the approaches to the city is unceasing. There are more serious trials ahead."

President's Message Draws Varied Comment

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—President Roosevelt's report to congress on his meeting with Prime Minister Churchill on the Atlantic drew generally favorable reaction Thursday, although some members protested that the message provided no clear cut explanation.

Senate Democratic Leader Barkley said: "The message is admirably clear. The message emphasizes the high aims set forth in the joint statement issued by the president and Mr. Churchill which aims in my opinion will find a universal response in the hearts of all lovers of human freedom."

Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, a member of the senate non-intervention bloc, said: "It seems to me the president was attempting to repudiate the idea that the presence of army and navy officials indicated that we would take military or naval action to carry out the eight points."

Sen. Thomas (D) Utah: "I am heartily in favor of the eight points, and I am glad that the president sent the message to congress enlarging on the conference."

Sen. Clark (D) Mo., a member of the senate non-intervention bloc, said: "It is a pretty bold man who will guarantee the freedom of religion practiced by Joseph Stalin."

Sen. LaFollette (P) Wis., also a member of the non-intervention bloc, said: "The president obviously took note of criticism by reinstating for the United States the two freedoms that were lost at sea, the freedom of religion and freedom of information, but he doesn't say whether Churchill and Joe Stalin are going to put them back. I'm disappointed that neither the congress or the country have been given any information as to commitments were made to carry out the provisions of the eight-point declaration."

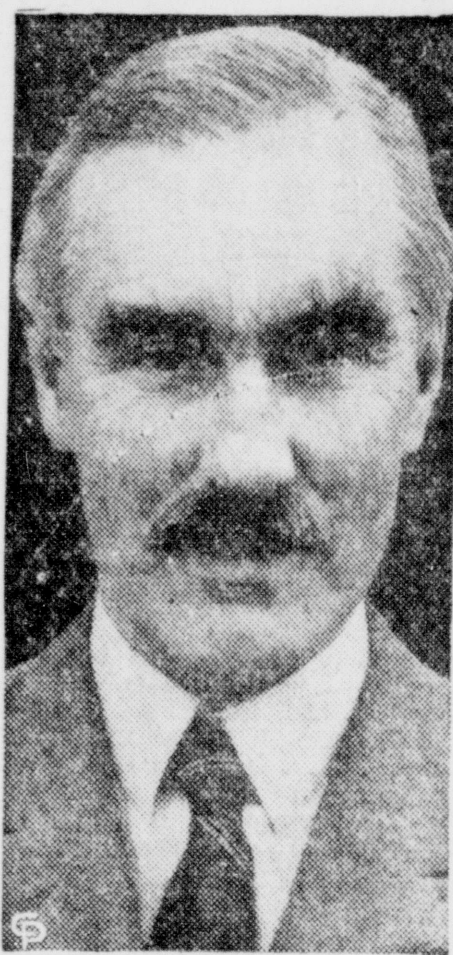

Registration of Birth," whereby those whose birth is not recorded at Harrisburg, or in the Prothonotary's office, can make application to the court and have their birth date established and recorded.

This applies mostly to persons born between the years 1893 and 1905, or prior to 1893, whose birth is not recorded in the Prothonotary's office. A law passed around 1893, placed the burden of registering births on the assessors, and most births were registered, but some were not.

In case a person needs a birth certificate now, and there is no record at the court house, he can make application to the court, supported by affidavits from the attending physician, midwife, priest, minister, who have intimate knowledge of the records, or from relatives.

If accepted by the court, the record is placed on file and a copy given the applicant. The fee for this service is $2.50, and includes one copy of the record. Additional copies may be obtained for fifty cents per copy.

DEVISE NEW TYPE X-RAY UNIT FOR BATTLEFIELD USE

(International News Service)
KANSAS CITY, Aug. 22.—In an effort to decrease battle tolls, medical science has taken another stride forward in perfecting a new type X-ray unit which may be taken into the field, thus permitting treatment of wounded men as quickly as they can be brought to the machine.

A 20-second, automatic operation is said to disclose the position and depth of shrapnel, bullets and other foreign matter in the body, thus making accurate emergency operations possible.

Although the army had a mobile X-ray unit during the last war, its use was restricted mostly to the hospital, whereas this first portable machine may be dismantled in about six minutes and carried by two men to the wounded soldier.

(International News Service)
INDIANA, Pa. Aug. 22.—One man was injured and three others were brought out safely after a rock-fall had trapped them 4½ miles back

The mishap was the third major

On June 30 a gas explosion killed seven men and brought injury to 16.
As a result of that explosion, State Mine Inspector W. B. Wardrop filed nine informations against L. J. Redding, superintendent, and Charles Ramsell, former mine foreman.
Wednesday. Seven of the informations charged involuntary manslaughter, and the other two accused the men individually of negligence.

Only One Injured
Edward Brink, 28, of Aultman, Indiana county, was sent to the hospital with a possible fracture of the left hip and a fracture of the right foot. The others, rescued without injury, were Gerald S. Swan, 54, of Aultman; Fred Fogle, 30, of Mineral Points, Cambria county, and John T. Wysocki, 27, of Spangler, Cambria county.

Brink sustained his injuries when he was caught on the edge of the fall and partially buried. He was brought out three hours after the accident last yesterday afternoon.
Swan, Fogle and Wysocki were entombled for 5½ hours.

The men, working as conveyerloaders in a 39-inch seam 4½ miles from the entrance, quit work at 3:30 yesterday and were walking toward the exit when the fall occurred, occials said. The fall was 50 feet in depth, and rescue crews reached Brink from the regular entrance, while another crew tunneled 18 feet through the wall from an adjoining chamber to reach the others. None was injured, they said, and the men went home.

In addition to yesterday's and the June 30 mishaps, a rockfall occurred on Dec. 31, trapping five men for 18 hours. All were rescued.

BRITISH WOMEN REPLACE SALESMEN CALLED TO COLORS

LONDON.—Latest work to be taken over by women is that of traveling salesmen. One of Britain's biggest rayon and cotton goods manufacturers has replaced with young women, 25 men of their staff called up for war service.

Some women are wives of men in the Forces who have taken over their husbands' jobs. Others have previously worked in banks or as secretaries but find traveling more interesting.

"I could not be more satisfied with results these girls have brought back after a month on tour," said the director of one big firm.

"When we decided to try the experiment we were apprehensive.
Some of the shopkeepers had for years done all their business with men."

"As more of our men travelers are called up their order books and cars will be taken over by women.
In all we have a traveling staff of about 50 women covering the whole country."

BADLY HURT IN FALL FROM TREE

Robert Dinsmore, aged 70 years, of R. F. D. No. 3, was brought to the James Memorial hospital at 7:45 o'clock Thursday evening, suffering with a fracture of the pelvic bone sustained when he fell from a ladder which had been placed against an apple tree.
His condition was reported as fair
at the hospital today.

Prince Martinique Beats Helen Abbe

Takes First Two Heats Of 2:20 Trot; Helen Takes Last

GAY FLIRT WINS TWO PACE HEATS

Gay Flirt captured the 2:25 pace, Prince Martinique won the 2:20 trot and Kate W. Black H and Indian were the running race winners in the closing day of harness and running events at the Fair track, Thursday. The fastest quarter was turned in during the second heat of the 2:20 trot. Seven hundred spectators witnessed the races.

Gay Flirt, a bay mare by Volo Peter, owned by Mondschein Bros., and driven by Mondschein won in straight heats. Rhoda Volo, driven by Frank Reynolds, led at the half in 1:07 but on the stretch she was overtaken by Gay Flirt who won by a whisker. The time 2:14.

The bay mare took the second heat in 2:11, the fastest heat of the day. Gay Flirt got away in grand style. Rhoda Volo was second and trailed close by Gratian Maid. Lightning Hal was coaxed at the three quarter pole and shot ahead of Gratian Maid.

When the field came out for the third heat Rhoda Volo was drawn and the heat again went to Gay Flirt in 2:14. Mondschein apparently had no difficulty keeping his bay in the fore. Lightning Hal made a valiant effort to overtake Gratian Maid but couldn't pass the chestnut mare.

The 2:20 trot was a fight between Prince Martinique, a bay gelding by Martinique, owned and driven by H. J. Hetzel and Helen Abbe by Guy Abbe, owned and driven by youthful Johnny McKinley of New Castle. Prince Martinique captured the first two heats but lost the third. The time for the heats was 2:14 1/2, 2:15 and 2:13.

In the first heat, every heat being a race, Helen Abbe got away slow but was third at the half. Prince Martinique being first in 1:09 1/2 and Elsie S. Dean, second. On the back turn McKinley let Helen Abbe out. She overtook Elsie Dean and Volina Harvester and lost the heat by half a sulky because the Prince also had speed and stamina. Volina Harvester was third.

The second heat was practically a repetition of the first with Helen Abbe making her bid after the third.

Dog Training Season Starts

Sportsmen Start Brushing Up On "Points" Of Stalking Small Game

Man and his best animal pal—the dog—has started to wend their way into Lawrence county fields to begin brushing up on the "points" of stalking small game.

The training season started at sunrise Wednesday and continues through to March 31, 1942, according to Seth Gordon, executive director of the Pennsylvania Game commission.

Dogs, according to the director, may be trained on the several small game species consisting of cottontail rabbits, pheasants, quail, grouse and squirrels during the hours from sunrise to 9:00 p. m. (EST), when accompanied by and under the control of the handler. Raccoon hunters, whose sport is confined to night hunting, are permitted to run their dogs from sunrise to midnight (EST). The use of dogs is not permitted in the quest of deer, bears or wild turkeys.

That the training season opened Wednesday does not mean that dogs may be run freely in the game fields, stated Director Gordon. All dogs, when being trained, are set forth in the game code, must be under the control of the owner or handler. Failure to comply with this provision of the law subjects the guilty person to a ten dollar fine and costs. Sunday training is permitted, provided proper consent has been obtained from the owner of the land.

Common practice for acquainting the dog to the sound of a gun is ordinarily accomplished by the firing of blank cartridges from a pistol pointed toward the ground, usually to the side of the handler. The game law prohibits the use of shot guns or rifles for training purposes. It is also unlawful to inflict any injury to birds or animals while afield during the training season.

Sportsmen's Council of Lawrence county meets tonight at 8 o'clock at the Ellwood-Wampum Rod & Gun club, H. N. Drio, secretary, announced today.

Jackie Snyder, one of Sylvan Heights caddy aces, won the annual caddy championship of the county, which was staged at the Sylvan Heights course this week, shooting a sparkling 169 for the 36-hole grind to win the title in easy fashion. Par for the 36 holes is 144.

Gerald Solomon, of Castle Hills course, won second place with a score of 181. Bob Hay was third with 213, James Fleming, fourth with 219; Sam Ferrare, fifth with 232; and George Nowling, sixth, with 279.

First prize was a fine golf bag and handsome prizes were given the other winners.

Half-mile racing track is planned for Ocean City, Maryland, an Atlantic seashore resort.

Amateur Stars Here Tuesday

Two Champs, Wargo And Pratt, Also Baxter, Moran On Card

PETE MISTO TO BOX NICK RETARDO

Fight fans are showing more than ordinary interest in the eight-battle schedule prepared by the Jefferson A. C. for The Arena next Tuesday night because two champions and other pugilistic stars are docketed for action. The shift from Monday to Tuesday was decided upon some weeks ago.

Two of the finest in the Pittsburgh district, Nickie Wargo, senior A. M. A. champion junior lightweight will box Julius Wait, of Wierton and Henry Pratt, A. M. A. bantamweight champion will take on Ossie Pegase of Youngstown.

These two battles have gone far toward magnetizing attention. However, the fight fever has been increased because Russell Baxter, Frankie Moran, the Leisure brothers and Nick Retardo, the latter of Ellwood are on the card.

The three first named battlers trained last night in the gymnasium conducted by the Jeffersons. A crowd of fans watched their every move and each of them were reported in shape; likewise Retardo who trained in Ellwood City.

Baxter, a shrewd boxer, who hits good with his right, will oppose Henry Jackson of Wierton at 155 in the main bout and Frankie Moran the "Knockout Kid" will oppose Teddy Phillips of Pittsburgh. They will fight as lightweights.

The Leisure boys will oppose Bob Carmichael and Bomber Brown, the latter pair from Wierton at 160 and 130. If Brown can out-bomb Baby Face he will be going some while Les is a rugged, tough kid, with a good sock in his right.

Pete Misto of Youngstown and Nick Retardo at 147 should put on a thriller. Both have fought good fights here and Don Jerry, son of Frank, the former marathon runner and a former high school griddier will take on Andy Baker, of McKee Rocks at 150.

Heroes And Goats

(International News Service) Heroes—Bob Feller who won his twenty-first game of the season for Cleveland by shutting out New York; Jake Mooty who twirled Chicago's Cubs to a seven-hit win over Brooklyn; Sid Hudson and Dutch Leonard, whose pitching enabled Washington to gain sixth place in the American league by a double victory over Detroit; Sam Chapman who hit three homers as his Philadelphia teammates split a double duel with the St. Louis Browns.

Winds Up Loser Goats—Atley Donald who gave Cleveland a free ticket and two hits—good for a pair of runs—in the first inning and despite brilliant pitching thereafter wound up the loser as New York dropped a game to Cleveland; Bud Thomas who relieved Buck Newsom with Detroit leading by a run only to lose to Washington.

Bright and early on Monday morning the New Castle High team will move off for their annual encampment at Muddy Creek Falls. The first workout will be around 10:30 o'clock just as soon as the boys get settled.

There will be two stiff workouts each day during camp and at the end of the week, the boys will be just about ready for the opening battle on Friday night, September 5 with Grove City High.

Coach Bridenbaugh has made it plain that he will not tolerate any foolishness in camp this season, as the time for getting ready is very short and the boys will have to learn quickly the fundamentals of the game. Laziness will not be tolerated either, said "Brid" as there are too many boys anxious to make the camp trip and we just didn't have room for them.

Skeet and trap shoot, an afternoon and evening affair will be among the highlights. The evening shoot starts at 8 P. M. Drio, secretary, announced today.

Bridenbaugh Will Give Football Players Final Pre-Camp Instructions

WILL LEAVE FOR CAMP ON MONDAY

New Castle High football players are to meet this evening at 7 o'clock at Senior High with Head Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh. Final pre-camp instructions will be given the boys.

All of the 35 boys who were selected for the camp trip are asked to be at the meeting tonight or to get in touch with Coach Bridenbaugh by calling 322.

Bright and early on Monday morning the New Castle High team will move off for their annual encampment at Muddy Creek Falls. The first workout will be around 10:30 o'clock just as soon as the boys get settled.

There will be two stiff workouts each day during camp and at the end of the week, the boys will be just about ready for the opening battle on Friday night, September 5 with Grove City High.

Coach Bridenbaugh has made it plain that he will not tolerate any foolishness in camp this season, as the time for getting ready is very short and the boys will have to learn quickly the fundamentals of the game. Lazness will not be tolerated either, said "Brid" as there are too many boys anxious to make the camp trip and we just didn't have room for them.

Skeet and trap shoot, an afternoon and evening affair will be among the highlights. The evening shoot starts at 8 P. M. Drio, secretary, announced today.

PHILADELPHIA—What success the Philadelphia Athletics have enjoyed this season can partly be attributed to the playing and hitting of Dick Siebert, star first baseman. Until he joined the Philly man, Lazness will not be tolerated either, said "Brid" as there are too many boys anxious to make the camp trip and we just didn't have room for them.

Bessemer Leads Lawrence League

Defeats Wampum, Cellar Team, Two To Nothing At Wampum

SCORE WINNING RUNS IN SECOND

Bessemer, almost annually the Lawrence County Baseball league, flag-winner again is atop the loop having defeated Wampum, two to nothing yesterday at Bessemer. Stanley was the winning pitcher. Ellwood City trails by one game.

The game was scoreless until the fifth frame when Samma and Anderson, second baseman and catcher, respectively, crossed the home plate. Neither team could score after that frame.

Marshall, second baseman for Wampum, broke into the top base column and Anderson pored a triple. These were the only extra base hits. Samma and Leota stole bases.

Two doubles were staged, Marshall to Frank to Price and Anderson brought the fans to their feet with an unassisted double play. One man on each team, Herbert and Anderson, were hit by pitched balls.

Reds Staging Belated Rally

Cincinnati Team Has Won 11 Out Of Last 12 Games, Hope To Overtake Leaders

PIRATES TRIM GIANTS AT NIGHT

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 22—Having played great and mediocre baseball by turns all season without the strain of being up where the pace is fast and the battle hot, the Cincinnati Reds have begun to come on in defense of their National League pennant. They've won 11 of their last 12 games behind the pitching staff that approaches the greatness of the Red fling stunts last season and the year before when they hurled their way into the World Series.

Yet, the big trouble with the Cincinnati situation as it bears on the Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals' championship hopes is that the Reds seemed to have made their bid a little too late, like a trailing Whirlaway which is running faster than the rest of the field but hasn't enough room left to get up before hitting the wire.

Reds Improving
That seems to be all the Reds might need this season, a little more distance over which to travel, now that they are under way, to head off the Dodgers and Cards, and they still might do it in spite of their lagging up to now, but it is a remote possibility.

The Dodgers have only 37 games left, the Cards, 38 and the Reds, 40, with the Dodgers 1½ in front of the Cards and the latter eight more in front of the hard-fighting but tottling champions.

That they will get sufficiently embroiled in the race to add more interest and zest to it seems likely, anyhow, considering their recent performances, through yesterday when Bucky Walters won his 16th victory of the season, beating the Boston Braves, 8 to 5.

That cut a full game off the Dodgers and Cards for the Reds, for both of the top clubs lost their games.

Pirates Trip Giants
The Dodgers blew their lead of the Chicago Cubs, 6 to 2, highlight of this one being ejection of both Manager Leo Durocher and Manager Jimmy Wilson from the game by the umpires. The Cards were knocked over by the Philadelphia Phillies, 5 to 4, last night.

In still another night game the Pittsburgh Pirates downed the New York Giants, 5 to 3.

The New York Yankees remained 15 games out in front in the American League despite a 2 to 0 loss to Bob Feller and the Cleveland Indians, this being Feller's 21st win of the season.

The second place Chicago White Sox were bumped by the Boston Red Sox, 8 to 5, to prevent the former from advancing.

The St. Louis Browns beat the Philadelphia Athletics, 11 to 3, then lost to the A's, 12 to 0, with Tom Ferrick hurling a four-hitter. Sam Chapman poled three home runs for the Athletics in the two contests.

Pro Grid Yankees Want New "Angel"

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 22—The New York Yankees of the American Professional Football league were looking for a new "angel" today.

Douglas Hertz, rich English poloist sportsman, revealed that he has given until it hurts to the Yankees cause, and can give no more. He informed Manager Jack McBride that he was withdrawing from the club.

The announcement came as a surprise insofar as the Yanks are scheduled to begin training Monday with 55 players, including all-American John Kimbrough from Texas A. & M.

McBride disclosed last night that he virtually had been assured of necessary capital from other sources to continue operations. He estimated it will require $25,000 to keep the team in action, "and we're a cinch to make $50,000," he said.

With three-fourths of the stalls filled and the influx of campaigners increasing daily, Wheeling Downs looked forward to an outstanding meeting as the calibre of racing material increased with each new shipment. E. Hubbeck's leading money-winning stable at the recent Cumberland meeting has been bedded down. The Norwegian sportsman, the champion two-year-old of the Maryland summer season in Val Dove, Easter Rabbit and Leonard Town are among the best half-mile handicap racers in training this year. Silver Tass completes the Hubbeck string that won five purses at Cumberland. Palkin, a handicap winner at Wheeling last fall, has returned with the L. T. Davis stable. The speedy mare heads a four-horse string that includes such shifty runners as Satin Royce, Nutmeg Lass and Jalene. They were vanned from Cumberland.

In the Chestnut Ridge Hunt Horse show at Dunbar, Rolling Rock farms placed first and second in the model hunters shown in hand event with Spanish Spear taking first and also took first in the suitable to become hunters class. For the first time in the Pennsylvania boxing history, a husband and wife will act in the official capacities in the amateur bouts being held in John Dreshner Memorial Stadium today at Tarentum. Don Fletcher, New Kensington high school football coach and former Carnegie prize winner, will be one of the judges. Mrs. Fletcher, the former Billie Taylor, daughter of the late John T. Taylor, who before his death was secretary of the AMA of the AAU, will be timekeeper. The eight-bout program is sponsored by Tarentum volunteer fire department.

If true, a report that has reached the writer will prove worthwhile, it being to the effect that the Italian Athletic association may be revived and that baseball will be the association's chief venture in 1942. The eight-bout program is sponsored by Tarentum volunteer fire department.

It is hard to explain why more fans do not turn out to see the fistic battles here. The same fighters here who are looked upon as "run-of-the-mine" (although they are considerably better) enter other rings and "wow" the fans. For instance, take Russell Baxter and Frankie Moran. Russell has only been outpunched once. Moran has knocked out more opponents, we believe, than any amateur in this part of the country. When they fight in Farrell it is not surprising to see 2,000 fans present. In this city about 700 pass through the turnstiles. If fans here desire weekly or pro fights, the attendance if big enough will be a barometer for the Jefferson A. C. The next show here is Tuesday night.

Mike Marky Hurls One-Hit Victory

Single By Skuba Robs West Pittsburgh Hurler Of No-Hitter, Score 4-1

Mike Marky, West Pittsburgh's first baseman-pitcher, came within a scorching double of entering the city league Hall of Fame as he stood out there on the mound at West Pittsburgh and mastered the Slovaks, the "Gas House" gang won 4 to 1.

Prybiski was the Slovak played who robbed Marky of his coveted effort at a no-hitter. Marky was in rare form and fanned four men while walking two. Mehalic did the Slovak pitching and gave five hits with Winters having two of them. West Pittsburgh had one big inning, the third, scoring three runs. The victory practically assures the West Pittsburgh team of entering the playoff at the end of the season.

the examinations must file an application fifteen days prior to the date of the examination (September 1, 1941). The filing fee is $12.50, which will be applied against the $25.00 taxidermy license fee, provided the applicant successfully passes the examination to be held in Harrisburg.

Fees paid by those who fail will be deposited in the Game Fund to help defray the expense incurred in holding the examination.

Application blanks may be secured from the offices of the Pennsylvania Game commission at Harrisburg upon request. It is unlawful to practice taxidermy for profit without having first secured a license.
